OWNER OF BROWNS
ANNOUNCES FOHL
IS OUT AS MANAGER

"Released for Good of the Game and Morale of the Players," Club President's Telegram Says.

SUCCESSOR HAS NOT BEEN NAMED

Team Finished Third in American League in 1921 and Second in 1922, Under Fohl's Leadership.

Lee Alexander Fohl, for three years manager of the St. Louis "Browns," has been discharged. Notice of his release as manager of the team which he led into third place in the American League race in 1921 and to second place by a one-game margin, in 1922, was given out in St. Louis at noon today by L. P.
Von Weise, secretary to Phil Ball, principal stockholder of the club.
Von Weise today telephoned the Post-Dispatch that Ball had sent him the following telegram today:

"Notify newspapers. Immediately that Manager Lee Fohl has been released for the good of the game and the morale of the players."

I really can add nothing to the telegram," Von Weise stated, when asked who would succeed Fohl and if the release was effective today.

"Mr. Ball is in the North and did not confide his plans to me," A telegram from New York said that Fohl apparently had not been notified of his dismissal, as he had gone on the field with the St. Louis team for today's game.

Immediate Release Expected.
Fohl is under contract to the Browns and it had been expected that he would remain throughout the present season. It is assumed that the Browns have decided to release him immediately and pay his salary in full.

"Bill" Fohl, a former Browns player and of late years connected with the Tulsa club, as general manager, is expected to direct the team until Fohl's successor is appointed.

Fohl was brought to St. Louis early in July to take the place of Business Manager Quinn, who was then dictating for the Boston American League Club, through a syndicate of Columbus, O., friends. This deal was consummated a few days ago. It generally understood that Fohl is to succeed Frank Chance as manager of the Boston team next year.

The Danforth Incident.
The reference to the "good of the game and the morale of the players," as being the cause of Fohl's release, may apply to the recent suspension of Dave Danforth, pitcher. When Danforth was ordered out of the game by Umpire Moriarty for discoloring a ball at Philadelphia about a week ago, the players wanted to telegraph a petition to President Ban Johnson of the American League signed by each and all of them, expressing their view that Danforth had not violated any rules, but had been pitching in compliance with the rules of the American League all season. When Fohl was asked to join the movement and to sign the petition, he declined. The petition was not sent.

At that time Ball was very much incensed at the failure of his manager to support the players.

Fohl was signed as assistant manager of the Browns in 1922. The next winter Manager Jimmy Burke was released and Fohl took over the managerial reins at the start of the 1923 campaign.

Last year there were rumors that Fohl would be replaced, but Ball wanted Quinn to remain as business manager of the club and Quinn insisted that Fohl be retained. Quinn cited Fohl's record of placing the team third in 1921 and second to the New York Yankees by one game in 1922. In order to keep Quinn, Ball consented to give Fohl another chance.

While the Browns were at home recently Ball criticized Fohl's management of the team and said that if a capable substitute were at hand he would discharge Fohl immediately. Ball did not follow up the statement and Fohl stood pat. Then both sides waited for the other to act.
Ball hoping that Fohl would resign and Fohl hoping that Ball would pay him off and dismiss him.

Fohl in Awkward Position.
Fohl's position at this season has been an unpleasant one. The players learned apparently that their manager was not popular with the owners of the club and there were many cases of insubordination.
Then, when Quinn left the club it was a foregone conclusion that Fohl would be removed soon as the season ended and Fohl's position became even more unpleasant.

During the Browns' training trip this spring Fohl said he did not know how long he would remain as

LEADER OF POLICE PARTY QUESTIONED
AT RAID INQUEST

Lieut. Walton Says He Directed Men to Enter House Because of "Loud and Unusual Noises."

"BELIEVED FIGHT WAS IN PROGRESS"

Family of Men Killed in Encounter With Officers Is Represented by Counsel at Hearing.

Police Lieut. William R. Walton, head of the party of city detectives which entered the house at 3761 Finney avenue, over a basement saloon, the night of July 29, was the first witness today in the inquest into the deaths of James, or Zim-mund, Wojcik, and Walter Boroski, or Brzozowski, brothers-in-law, who were shot to death in a revolver fight resulting from the raid.

The inquest was adjourned at 12:15 p. m. until next Tuesday. In the hope that Detectives John N. McNiff and John P. Kelly, who were wounded by Wojcik, would be able to leave the city hospital by that time. Circuit Attorney Sidener, who was at the inquest, said the testimony of Mc-Niff and Kelly should be heard, if possible, before reaching a verdict.

The first postponement, a week ago,
was for the same reason.

The coroner announced last week that, because of the question raised by the relatives of Wojcik and Bo-roski, as to the right of the detectives to enter the premises without a search warrant, a "special jury of business men" would be called to hear the case.

However, the law requires that "coroner's juries shall view the bodies of deceased persons, and as the funerals were about to be held, the coroner found it more convenient to have the members of his regular panel, for the last week, view the bodies of the two men. These regular jurors, therefore, were retained for the inquest.

Lieut. Walton Questioned.
Lieut. Walton was questioned by John Neu, counsel for the family, who asked as to his reason for entering the house, and was later taken over the matter again by Verne R. C.
Lacy, counsel for the Police Department in the case.

He said, in each questioning, that he directed his men to enter with him, because of "loud and unusual noises," which they heard as they groove past the house in a police automobile.

"They were hollering and yelling,"
he said in answer to Neu's questions.
"There was a lot of noise. It led me to believe there was a general fight there."

Neu asked what particular words were heard, and Walton replied, "No words in particular, just noise."

Asked About Neighbors.
"Had you received any complaint from neighbors?" Neu asked.

"I spoke to several neighbors," Walton replied, "and they told me they would like to come down and testify for me, but that they didn't want to take a chance on being killed." This appeared to refer to conversations after the shooting.

The lawyer asked whether the entrance was made in pursuit of a prisoner, or because a felony was being committed. Walton said it was not, but that the entrance of a felony was found after the entrance.
The detectives found evidence of the manufacture and illicit sale of liquor in the house, which is said to have been used as an annex to the basement saloon.

In reply to a question, Walton said he had no search warrant.

"Shouted Vill Names at Us," After telling of the noises heard from outside, he said:

"As we came within 100 feet of the house, we saw three men and a woman come down the steps.
Autos were in front of the house.
I said to the others, 'We'll take a look in,' and I knocked at the door. When a man opened it, I said we were police officers, and the man called out 'Coppers!'"

"We found men and women drinking in the reception rooms on the first floor. They acted like a bunch of maniacs, shouting villages at us, and Felix Wojcik (brother of the man who was killed) picked up a floor lamp, but I kept him from throwing it."

"James Wojcik ran back to the kitchen and got his automatic, and I seized him, but he shifted the gun and began shooting. McNiff, and then Kelly, said they were shot, and I first called to them not to shoot me, as I was so close to him. Then, as I saw he would probably kill some of us, I shoved him away and said,
'Give it to him,' and they fired."

Walton said he did not know who shot Boroski. The post-mortem report showed that both Wojcik and Boroski were shot with 35-caliber

A Close View of the Car Carrying the President's Body to Washington

THIS photograph was made yesterday afternoon at Malta, Ill., 65 miles from Chicago, and is typical of the scenes enacted at every little station along the route from San Francisco. The entire population of the town turned out to pay its respects. It will be noted that the car is the same in which the President traveled to the West on his Alaskan trip and those who visited the President's special while it was parked at Union boulevard, near Lindell, during his visit to St. Louis in June, will recognize the amplifying equipment on the car roof that has been installed to carry his voice to the crowds that gathered along the route to hear his speeches.

ACCIDENTALLY KILLS
MOTHER WITH RIFLE

Son Was Cleaning 22-Caliber Weapon When It Was Discharged.

Mrs. Harriet Geisler, 62 years old, a widow, of 4604 Easton avenue, was shot and killed by the accidental discharge of a bullet in the hands of her son, Erwin, 28, at the residence at 1 o'clock this afternoon.

Geisler was cleaning his rifle. The bullet struck his mother in the left chest, near a fleshy region at the shoulder, then passed into her body and lodged near her heart.

A daughter, Mrs. T. A. Foley, was present at the time. Although there was no indication that it was not an accident, Geisler was ordered held for the coroner.

ROBBER SHIPPED INTO EXPRESS OFFICE VAULT

Burglary at Los Angeles Frustrated With Arrests—Box and Human Freight Called for.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Aug. 7.— Frustration of plans to rob the Los Angeles vaults of the American Express Co. by shipping a man into them in a box has been disclosed by the police here. The plot was broken up by the arrest of three alleged conspirators, the police announced today.

The man was actually inside the vaults, but when two arrests had been made, others of the gang went to the express company and demanded and received the box, according to the police.

Deputies said they were searching for Charles Dehanut, who was arrested three years ago after having himself carried in a trunk to a warehouse after serving two years of a five-year sentence at San Quar-entin for that offense. The police declared they believed Dehanut was the man sent into the express company vaults.

Wilson Leaves His Card
WASHINGTON, Aug. 7.—A calling card bearing the name of Woodrow Wilson was added today to the hundreds left at the hotel suite where President Coolidge is making his headquarters.

Accompanied by Mrs. Wilson, the former President motored to the hotel late yesterday and left the card with the doorman. It was enclosed in an envelope marked "For the President."

A compound of motives one feels is behind this unprecedented outpouring of people. Curiosity plays its part, the spirit of conformity has attained some, others render homage merely to the high office of the United States. The mass effect, whatever the individual motive or motives, is that of a nation mourning deeply and reverently. That is the effect, whether 10,000 stand together or one lad stands apart at salute, with tears running down his face, or a woman lifts up a baby out of a carrage that it, too, may see and some day relate that it saw the flower-lanked casket of a President.

There are subtle differences between the crowds in the different sections we have passed through.
Those in the West were more silent, they appeared a shade more deeply touched than the swarming thousands of Chicago. Perhaps, the influence of the open spaces that the President loved to talk about accounts in part for the difference.

Perhaps, it is due somewhat to the fact that out West the people have a closer sense of relationship to the Federal Government than those of the Middle West and the East.

Here in Ohio, one gets the impression of a personal note in the morning. At dawn the people are out, but seeing the masses of silent people, one is not long inclined to analyze the effect; grips the emotions tensely for that. A vivid picture —still it will always be vivid—is that of the ranks of silent, grave-faced people at Cheyenne, standing stoically in the rain. Impressive in another way—because of its bigness—

the crowd at Chicago. The funeral train moved slowly through lanes of humanity, broadening out in places into dense masses, the depth of half a city block. Police officials said that there were more than 1-000,000 people on their feet in Chicago and its suburbs.

In the suburbs were strings of motor cars, blocks deep. In every street going upon the track. People stood on the running boards of limousines and flippers parked in vacant lots along the right of way. Solitary pedestrians could be seen in distant groups. Boys were pushed high on telegraph poles, in trees and signal towers.

Faces, Faces, Everywhere.
As the train entered the more popular areas, the throngs grew ever denser. On both sides of the track bordering the track, hardly a hand's breadth from the side of the train, People filled the narrow ways between the funeral train and others standing on adjacent tracks. Faces peeped out between the slats of cattle cars in the yards. Faces—faces everywhere—all turned to the coach where lay the dead President.

Night fell before the slow journey through the city was completed and crowds still lined the tracks. Among the floral pieces sent about the train at Chicago was a large cross of goldenrod bearing on a field of white carnations the letters K K K in purple immortelles. These who received the "fiery cross" say they could not tell whether it was handed in by a member of the Aldermen's Committee or some other person.
Concealed in the flowers was a card with the inscription: "Grand Dragon, Realm of Illinois."

UNPRECEDENTED CROWDS

TRAIN CROSS COUNTRY

Special Carrying the Late President's Body East, Moves Slowly Through Lanes of Silent, Grave-Faced Persons Along Tracks

By CHARLES G. ROSS
Chief Washington Correspondent of The Post-Dispatch, Who Accompanied President Harding

ON BOARD HARDING FUNERAL TRAIN, AT YOUNGSTOWN, O.,
Aug. 7.—Never has any railroad train been seen by so many persons as this; never has such a multitude in any single day gathered along a railroad right of way to honor an American President as that which yesterday watched the passing of the car bearing the body of the late resident Harding to Washington.

Today, Ohio, the home state of the President, and Pennsylvania pay their silent tribute. Crowds are massed at every station. In lonely places are groups of two or three or a solitary person. Heads are bared. Many of the men hold their hands above the heart in the civil-ian's salute. Faces change but the picture everywhere is essentially the same, and it is hard to drag the eyes from it.

Continuous Tribute Paid Throughout Ohio and Every Crossing Along the Route.

By the Associated Press.
PITTSBURG, Pa., Aug. 7.—Thousands of men, women and children at this industrial city, forming a line along the Baltimore & Ohio right of way, from the tip of the most distant suburb to the Glenwood station, paid an impressive tribute to the late President Harding today as the funeral train passed on its way to Washington. The train arrived here at 12:32 p. m.
(Eastern Standard time). It halted at Glenwood while a change of engines was made.

CITY OF MOURNING AWAITS HARDING'S BODY AT CAPITAL

Folk of Washington, High and Low, Gather Hours Before Special Train Is Due to Pay Tribute.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Aug. 7.—A city of mourning awaited today to pay tribute at the bier of Warren G. Harding.

Hours before the special funeral train was due, the folk of Washington, high and low, had begun to gather along the way to the White House. Reports of the train's delay had not altered the plan of thousands here to be in their places early.

Steel cables that but a short time ago held back rolling thousands gathered for a shriners' convalescence, in which the President played a part, again girded Pennsylvania avenue, this time to hold back the ranks of silent humanity braving the summer heat to glimpse the casket.

Several hundred people were in front of the White House by early afternoon. Some came with camp stools or boxes. Before the Willard Hotel another crowd had gathered awaiting the appearance of President Coolidge.

Dull clouds still lurked in the sky,
but a blazing sun had driven them aside for an hour or two to pour heat down on the sweltering city. The people who waited hour after hour along Pennsylvania avenue or the other streets of the funeral route clustered under the trees that are Washington's greatest summer beauty, or lurked in doorways. It was hot, very hot, and the atmosphere was heavy with moisture and depressing, but the crowd lingered.

Orders for the stopping of street cars and all other traffic had been recalled to be released when it was definitely known what hour the train would arrive. Stores through the shopping district, where it had been planned to suspend all business while the cortage was making its way to the White House, kept their doors open through the afternoon.

President Coolidge and the Cabinet members in Washington, upon whom has fallen the duty of planning the honors to be paid in the name of a hundred million Americans to the fallen chief, will assemble at the station only a short time before the funeral train appears.

Cavalry Escort for Body.
Before the train arrives a cavalry escort will cluster in front of Fort Myer to form a line across the plain at the station and wait until the casket is delivered into keeping of the army comrades of the dead commander in chief to be carried to the White House. A battery of field guns, drab in the war paint, also will wait. At the entrance from which the casket and the funeral

The mourners, standing bareheaded under a scorching sky, were numberless as the train made its way slowly through the city. Crowds thrilled hillsides, bridges and every point of vantage. At the Glenwood Station, city and county officials and delegations representing various organizations met the train and presented floral tributes.

The speed of the train was reduced to a minimum for the short trip from Elm, a suburb, to the Glenwood depot. So slow was the progress that it required 44 minutes to travel the few miles through the East 2nd district to the station.

Within nine minutes after arriving at Glenwood, the necessary changes had been made, and the funeral train proceeded on its way to the capital, leaving here at 1:19
p. m.

Railroad officials said that an additional locomotive would be attached to the train at Connelville for the haul across the mountains.

The Harding funeral train entered Pennsylvania from Ohio at Mahon-ingtown, just west of here, at 1:39
a. m. (Eastern Standard time) and started its 206-mile journey across Southwestern Pennsylvania.

The increasing delay in the run to Washington provoked expressions of concern from some of Mrs. Harding's most intimate companions, lest the resulting lack of rest would make tomorrow's ordeal the more trying on her.

The original schedule was arranged so that Mrs. Harding would be able to spend the afternoon and night in the White House and be the better able to undergo her role during the formal services tomorrow. Under the circumstances, however, there will be little opportunity for rest tonight. It will be late, probably about midnight, when the train reaches Washington.

The delay of the train was caused by the immense crowds in the various cities and towns through which it passed, which lined the right-of-way and made it dangerous to move rapidly.

50,000 in Youngstown's Tribute.
Throughout the night hundreds of persons slept on the floor and benches of the railroad depot at Youngstown, O., or in the grassy plots surrounding the station there.
At every crossing automobiles were lined up with occupants doing sit-tally. Some estimates placed the number of persons who watched the train's slow passage through this city at 50,000.

The train proceeded at two miles in hour through the throngs of people gathered at Youngstown. The train was about eight hours late leaving Youngstown.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 7.—All the military and civil honors that a great nation, in sorrow and prayer, may bestow upon its dead will be paid to the memory of President Harding in the state funeral ceremony here tomorrow.

Preparations for the saddest ceremony in the life of the country since the martyred McKinley was brought here from Buffalo twenty-two years ago, have been completed under the guidance of President Coolidge.

While the casket is in the White House tonight there will be placed on the bier a wreath for Mrs. Harding, one by the President and Mrs. Coolidge, one for the Supreme Court by Chief Justice Taft, one for Congress by Speaker Clegg, one for the House of Representatives by Speaker Gillett, one for the Senate by Senator Clegg, one for the Navy by Secretary of the Navy, and one for the War Department by Secretary of War.

On Wednesday at 10 a. m. the casket will be placed on a caisson for the journey through Pennsylvania avenue to the Capitol. The historic thoroughfare will be cleared of all traffic and will be roped off with cordons of police on guard as the funeral cortege moves to the sound of funeral dirges by army, navy and marine corps bands.

These Senators and Representatives will act as honorary pallbearers: Senators Lodge, Massachusetts; Curtis, Kansas; Watson, Indiana; Overman, North Carolina; Fletcher, Florida; and Keim, Wyoming.

Speaker Gillett and Representatives Burton, Ohio; Butler, Pennsylvania; Cooper, Wisconsin; Garrett, Tennessee; Garner, Texas; and Hays, Iowa.

For honorary pallbearers to represent the army, six Generals, Bullard, Shanks, Muir, Brewster, Rickards, and O'Ryan of the New York National Guards; five Colonels, Fife, Edwards, Eberle, Rodman, and Stitt; and Major-General Leflore of the Marine Corps, were named to represent the navy.

The order of the funeral cortege from the White House to the Capitol tomorrow will be as follows:

Section One.

The general of the armies of the United States, commanding the military escort.

The military escort.

Section Two.

The civil procession, Senator Henry Cabot Lodge, chief marshal.

The Rev. A. Freeman Anderson, acting pastor of the Calvary Baptist Church, Mr. Harding's church, and the Rev. James Shea McGonigley, chaplain, House of Representatives.

PROGRAM OF HARDING FUNERAL SERVICES IN ROTUNDA OF CAPITOL

WASHINGTON, Aug. 7.—The program of the funeral services for the late President Harding in the rotunda of the Capitol at 11 a. m. tomorrow follows:

Invocation by the Rev. Dr. A. Freeman Anderson, assistant pastor of Calvary Baptist Church, Mr. Harding's place of worship.

Hymn, "Lead Kindly Light," by the male quartet of Calvary Baptist Church.

Scripture selection, twenty-third psalm, Mich. sixth chapter and eighth verse. Revelations, twenty-second chapter, first to fifth verses.

Proper quotations:

Prayer by the Rev. Dr. James Shera Montgomery, chaplain of the House of Representatives.

Hymn, "Nearer, My God, to Thee," by the male quartet.

Benediction by Rev. Dr. Anderson.

Two troops of cavalry will lead the way from the Union Station, swinging off to the Capitol grounds, then around the Peace Monument to Pennsylvania avenue and on to the Treasury and finally through the grounds of the executive mansion.

The funeral caisson drawn by four black horses will be next in line.

Party to Disperse Temporarily.

Then will follow the long string of motor cars bearing President Harding's traveling party, then other cars carrying President Coolidge and the official folks of Washington. Behind these will be a third troop of cavalry, and artillery will bring up the rear.

The official party will break up at the White House, those who made the journey with President Harding going to their homes only to reassemble at the train tomorrow evening and go with the body to Chicago.

Tonight the body will lie in the east room of the White House.

CARTER WON BRITISH AERIAL HANDICAP FROM SCRATCH

Over Course of 200 Miles His Average Speed Was 192 Miles an Hour.

By the Associated Press.

CROYDON, Aug. 7.—Starting from scratch L. L. Carter, piloting a Napier Lion, yesterday won the aerial handicap derby around London over a course of 200 miles, finishing in one hour two minutes and 32 seconds, at an average speed of 192.4 miles an hour.

Ten minutes and 46 seconds behind him, securing the handicap, was W. H. Longton, in a Bristol Juniper.

Capt. C. D. Barnard, in a Napier Lion, whose time was one hour, 21 minutes and one second, was third.

The first three to finish were H. A. Hamersley in a D.R. 9-A, and G. R. King, in a Sopwith Gnu. Thirteen aviators participated.

statement today that the "official" ceremonies attending the funeral of President Harding will end when the body has been placed on the funeral train for the journey to Marion.

"The participation by the President and the Representative groups of the legislative and judicial departments of the government in Marion," the statement said, "will be entirely on the basis of that of guests of the town of Marion. They will not participate officially in any way in the funeral there."

The representatives of the army and the navy at Marion will be the same officers who will form the guard of honor for the body here, but their participation in the services at Marion will be not as a guard of honor but as guests.

This is in accordance with the wishes of Mrs. Harding.

King George of Great Britain today designated Henry G. Chilton, counselor of the British embassy here, to represent him personally at the funeral. Mr. Chilton's participation will be in addition to the official presence of representatives of the British Government and of its dominions.

MARION FUNERAL TO BE HOMELIKE, WITHOUT DISPLAY

It Is to Be "Personal but Not Private," and All Harding's Friends and Admirers Will Be Welcome.

MAUSOLEUM TO BE CONSTRUCTED LATER

President's Body Will Not Be Buried Beside Mother and Sister, but Will Be Put in Receiving Vault.

By the Associated Press. MARION, O., Aug. 7.—The late President Harding will not be buried beside his mother and sister in the Marion cemetery. His body, after the funeral services here Friday afternoon, will be placed in the receiving vault at the cemetery and held there pending the erection of a mausoleum to receive it.

This was part of the funeral arrangements agreed to by Mrs. Harding, as communicated to Dr. George H. Harding Jr., the President's brother, and Dr. Carl W. Sawyer, who boarded the funeral train west of Chicago yesterday and which Dr. Sawyer brought back to the Presi-

The funeral plans, approved by Mrs. Harding, call for the utmost simplicity. The Rev. J. M. Landis, pastor of Trinity Baptist Church, the late President's place of worship when in Marion, will conduct the service.

The service will be conducted at the receiving vault in the cemetery at 2 p. m. There will be no display at the home of Dr. George T. Harding, the late President's father. The Rev. Jesse Swan, a Methodist pastor, will assist at the service.

The choir of Trinity Baptist Church will sing the President's favorite hymn.

Mrs. Harding Approves Plans. Honorary pall bearers will include the Rev. J. M. Landis, Dr. George H. Harding Jr., the President's brother, and Dr. Carl W. Sawyer, who boarded the funeral train west of Chicago yesterday and which Dr. Sawyer brought back to the Presi-

President and Mrs. Coolidge Entering Church Last Sunday

On his first Sunday in the highest office in the land, the President with his wife worshipped at the First Congregational Church in Washington. Mrs. Coolidge is a member of this church.

train and leave for Washington immediately after the services. Mrs. Harding will return to Washington about 6 o'clock that evening.

All Marion citizens were officially called upon by proclamation yesterday by Mayor George W. Neely to suspend all activities the day of the funeral "and join as friends to pay the tribute which is truly felt in our hearts."

Trinity Baptist Church, of which the President was a member, was thrown open to the public yesterday. Hundreds passed through in silence to view the draped pew in which Mr. Harding sat while attending services. Guards are stationed both within and outside the church.

STATION CROWDS SO LARGE HARDING FUNERAL TRAIN IS HOURS LATE

the night by railroad officials in charge of the train to remain at least a part of the time lost yesterday in Iowa and Illinois, and especially Chicago.

The State of Indiana, not to be outdone by her sister states to the west, paid an almost continuous tribute last night as the train thundered along in the darkness. Those who reverently waited the passing of the train could be distinguished by those aboard only by the lights at the station platforms and the glare of automobile lamps at almost every point the railroad crossed a highway. But they were there and they were able to present their respects to the honored dead and catch a glimpse of the flag-covered coffin, with its military guard, in the last car.

Mrs. Harding to White House. Entering Ohio, the throng seemed to increase in size, despite the lateness of the hour, as the large cities of Akron and Youngstown thousands were waiting to pay a final mark of respect.

Mrs. Harding was steering herself today as the train hurried onward for the scenes of sorrow and mourning in the capital. Those who had talked with her said she was quite prepared to go through the formal services in the same calm manner she had maintained during the trip across the country. Everything will be made as easy for her as possible, and when the train arrives in Washington she will be escorted from the station before the body is taken from the train and driven to the White House in advance of the cortege. She will take a route through the quieter streets, avoiding the more crowded thoroughfares, such as Pennsylvania avenue.

Mrs. Harding will be accompanied to the White House by a few of her most intimate friends. The other members of the party which accompanied President Harding to the Pacific Coast and to Alaska will go to the White House with the body and its military and official civilian escort.

President's Sister Boards Train. The train reached Willard, O., at 5:10 a. m. Eastern Standard time, and left at 5:23, after stopping to change engine.

Miss Abigail Harding, the President's sister, boarded the train at Willard to continue to Washington. The train had moved only a few miles out of Chicago when Mrs. Harding expressed a desire to have the afternoon newspapers brought to her. When they were delivered, she evidenced no little interest in the accounts of the day's events and particularly all that was printed from Washington telling of affairs there.

Mrs. Harding has requested railroad officials to see that the train travel no faster than 50 miles an hour at any time, and that its maximum speed in cities and towns, where crowds have gathered, be 10 miles an hour, according to a telegram made public here by Supt. B. F. Stevens of the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad.

Coins Flattened by Funeral Train Kept as Mementos.

CEDAR RAPIDS, Ia., Aug. 7.—One bouquet was placed on President Harding's funeral train yesterday was flattened by the heavy wheels. The flowers were placed aboard there. Thousands of persons here obtained mementos of the funeral train by placing coins on the track which were flattened by the heavy wheels. Dollars, dimes, nickels and pennies were rescued after the train had passed.

LEADER OF POLICE PARTY QUESTIONED AT RAID INQUEST

bullets such as are fired from the police revolver. Circuit Attorney Sidersen, after hearing the post-mortem report, said it appeared to indicate that both men were killed by police bullets. McNiff and Kelly, in statements at the hospital, have said they thought Wojcik shot Boroski accidentally, as they were not firing toward Boroski.

Since Wojcik's death the police have obtained statements of several witnesses implicating him in connection with the shooting. Kelly, who was known to have saved money, at Desloge, Mo., a man whom Wojcik is said to have introduced to a Polish couple, robbed them outright of $6000, after having learned where they kept their money. As such swindlers live in constant fear of arrest, these facts appeared to explain Wojcik's desperate behavior when the detectives appeared at his house.

Special Officer John J. Whiteley, fourth member of the police party, told a story similar to that of Lieut. Walton. He said Boroski was the first to fall when Wojcik began shooting.

Jess Finke, 19 years old, who rooms on the second floor of the house, denied having been on the first floor during the disturbance, saying he was in bed at the time. He said he heard Felix Wojcik cry, "They're killing my brother."

Other Witnesses. The remaining witnesses were Felix Wojcik, Ernest Reil, Cecilia Boroski and Mrs. Mary Wojcik, the last named being James Wojcik's widow. They told a story which was the same in most of its details, and which accounted fully for the killing of both Wojcik and Boroski, but not for the wounding of the policemen. All saw some of the police party fire on Wojcik or Boroski, they said, but none of them saw Wojcik even have a weapon in his hand.

These witnesses all testified that Lieut. Walton, upon entering, applied an appropriate name to the house, and said to the others with him, "Let's clean it out." They all said that James Wojcik protested against the officers' entrance, and made a formal demand for a search warrant, and that the detectives said, "We don't need a search warrant, we are police officers."

Felix Wojcik and Reil told of a picnic which the family party had attended. They said a man and woman were dancing in the parlor when they returned, and that they did not know who the dancers, and another man with them, were. Mrs. Wojcik, in telling of the visitors, said they were two women and a man. The three visitors, all agreed, left the

Governor-General's Office Hears of Clash With Philippine Constabulary.

By the Associated Press. MANILA, Aug. 7.—Fifty Moros were killed and a number wounded, and three members of the constabulary were wounded in a fight near Lake Lanao on the island of Mindanao yesterday. It was reported to the Governor-General's office today. No details were given.

Constabulary officers announced recently they were investigating reports that Moro religious fanatics were planning an attack on constabulary troops in Lanao to avenge the killing of rebellious Moros in 1920 by constabulary forces.

Some one familiar with the combination of the safe in the office of the Cinderella Theater, 2735 Cherokee street, opened the safe last night and stole $82.

Speakers stressed the thought that children should be taken to the meeting, because President Harding was a lover of children. Members of uniformed divisions of the Red Cross, of which Mr. Harding was president, are asked by local officers of the organization to wear their uniforms at the meeting, as a mark of respect.

It was announced that the 30 St. Louis posts of the American Legion were to prepare to hold a ritualistic service at the meeting. The late chief executive was regarded as a member of the Legion.

President Vesper of the Chamber of Commerce offered the motion, which was carried, that all business cease at 1 p. m. Friday, if not all day. Announcement was made that Man Injured by Street Car. George Brown, 38 years old, of 2036 East Osage avenue, suffered a fracture of the skull when knocked down by a northbound Grand boulevard car in front of 2109 East Gr. n. boulevard at 11:35 o'clock last night. The motorman of the car told the police that Brown walked in front of the car.

Los Angeles Exposition Closes. By the Associated Press. LOS ANGELES, Cal., Aug. 7.—The Monroe Doctrine Centennial and Motion Picture Exposition, which opened July 2, when Latin-American diplomats came from their posts at Washington for the occasion, closed Sunday night. It was estimated that more than 600,000 persons visited the exposition during the five weeks and one day it was open.

Republican Leaders of Missouri to Attend Funeral at Marion. Several Missouri Republicans, active in party affairs, will depart tomorrow for Marion to attend the funeral of President Harding on Friday. Among those who have announced their intention to go are Mayor Kiel, National Committeeman Babler, William Sacks, and District Attorney Madison, E. Mont Rely, Walter S. Dickey and Robert J. Flick, all of Kansas City.

Gov. Hyde, Adjutant General Raupp, Cortez F. Enlow, Secretary of the State Board of Health, and Don C. McVey of Trenton, a member of the Republican State Committee, will attend the services in Washington, and expect also to go to Marion.

East St. Louis Asked to Suspend Business Friday. A resolution requesting East St. Louis citizens, "as a mark of respect and esteem for the departed President," to suspend all business transactions Friday, when Mr. Harding's funeral will be held at Marion, was passed yesterday by the East St. Louis City Council. The resolution ordered all city offices closed for the day. Church bells will be tolled in all East St. Louis churches at the hour of the funeral.

Half Holiday at Webster Friday in Tribute to Late President. Mayor John B. Chipman of Webster Groves issued a proclamation today designating Friday afternoon as a half-holiday in tribute to the late President Harding. City offices and departments will be closed, and the proclamation asks that all business houses do likewise.

Memorial Service in Forest Park Friday Afternoon. A civic gathering in memory of the late President Harding will be held in Forest Park at 3 p. m. Friday, the hour of the Harding funeral services at Marion, O.

This was decided upon at a meeting in the Mayor's office this morning, in response to a general call. The meeting was attended by about 75 men and women, most of whom represented civic, religious, commercial or other organizations. It was announced that many retail stores and other business establishments had decided to close for the day at noon 1 p. m. Friday, and a motion picture will be held at the meeting calling on all business houses to close at 1 p. m. unless they had decided to close all day.

A committee of 16, with the Mayor as honorary chairman, to make arrangements, will meet this afternoon at city hall. Director of Public Welfare Caniff and Park Commissioner Pape are to be consulted in making arrangements.

Members of the committee are P. F. Hanson, chairman; Capt. L. A. Daugherty, acting commander of the Jefferson Barracks; Mrs. F. H. Zetefeld, Capt. Prosser; Col. Frank J. Jones, American Legion; Joseph Hauser, Central Trades and Labor Union; Paul V. Biehn, Chamber of Commerce; George B. Logan, City Club; Charles Williams; Henry Hoefler, Junior Chamber of Commerce; O. J. McCauley, Frank Geck, Director of Public Welfare Caniff; Park Commissioner Pape and W. T. Findly, secretary to Mayor Kiel.

South Platte Grounds Considered. It was pointed out that the Municipal Theater, the amphitheater of Art Hill and other spots in Forest Park are too hot for a daytime gathering at this season. The Mayor suggested the use of the south platte grounds near the avenue for the gathering, because of the shade trees there, and this is being considered.

MEMORIAL SERVICE IN FOREST PARK FRIDAY AFTERNOON

Civic Gathering in Memory of Late President Arranged for 3 P. M., the Hour of Funeral at Marion, O.

The Mayor suggested the use of the south platte grounds near the avenue for the gathering, because of the shade trees there, and this is being considered.

It is the intention to erect a speaker's platform and have a loud-speaker apparatus, similar to that in the Municipal Theater and the one which was used in the Coliseum when President Harding made his World Court address there, installed for the occasion.

All Creeds Urged to Take Part. The Mayor, in a proclamation yesterday, called on the people to meet in their various churches Friday for memorial services. The Rev. George A. Campbell, president of the Church Federation, at the meeting today urged that this idea be abandoned for that of a great central meeting. It was his motion for the meeting that prevailed. He urged that all creeds take part, and suggested that among the churches who should be called on to speak should be Archbishop Glennon, a Jewish leader and Protestants.

Speakers stressed the thought that children should be taken to the meeting, because President Harding was a lover of children. Members of uniformed divisions of the Red Cross, of which Mr. Harding was president, are asked by local officers of the organization to wear their uniforms at the meeting, as a mark of respect.

the following businesses and other places would be closed:

Associated Retailers, 67 downtown stores, including dry goods, women's apparel, men's furnishings, shoes, jewelry and other stores, to close at 1 p. m. (The dry goods and a few of the other stores will be closed all day Saturday as usual in summer.)

Retail Grocers and Butchers' Association, said to include a majority of such stores in the city, close at 1 p. m.

Merchants' Exchange, close all day.

Automobile industry, garages, stores, etc., close all day.

Shoe retailers, close 1 p. m.

Moving picture theaters will cancel matinees, William T. Findly, the Mayor's secretary, said he had been assured.

Findly, who presided at the meeting, said it was felt that it would be too much to ask picture theaters to close for the evening, too. Some speakers at the meeting expressed belief that this should be done however.

President Vesper of the Chamber of Commerce sent a communication to all members of the organization, saying that the late President endeared himself to the people of St. Louis during his recent visit here and urging that all factories and business houses close Friday, or if not possible to close all day, that they close not later than 1 p. m.

Mayor Kiel and President Vesper of the Chamber of Commerce will go to Marion to represent St. Louis at the funeral.

Circuit Judge Mix, who is presiding officer of the St. Louis Circuit Court for this month today issued an order for all divisions of the court to be closed Friday.

A community memorial service will be held Friday night at the Bowman Methodist Episcopal Church, Carter and Athlone avenues. Addresses will be given by the Rev. Dr. Grant A. Robbins and the Rev. Dr. John W. Kenist on President Harding's life and work.

Body Will Be Taken Up Pennsylvania Avenue on Caisson, the Long Avenue Cleared of All Traffic.

DIGNITARIES WILL GATHER IN CAPITOL

Not Since Death of McKinley
Twenty-Two Years Ago Has Official Circle Been So Saddened.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Aug. 7.—All the military and civil honors that a great nation, in sorrow and prayer, may bestow upon its dead will be paid to the memory of President Harding in the state funeral ceremonial here tomorrow.

Preparations for the saddest ceremony in the life of the country since the martyred McKinley was brought here from Buffalo twenty-two years ago, have been completed under the guidance of President Coolidge.

While the casket is in the White House tonight there will be placed on the bier a wreath for Mrs. Harding, one by the President and Mrs. Coolidge, one for the Supreme Court by Chief Justice Taft, one for Congress by Senator Cummins and Speaker Gillett of the House of Representatives, who is accompanying the body, and wreaths also from the heads of foreign and State governments.

Full Military Honors.
On Wednesday at 10 a. m. the casket will be placed on a caisson for the journey through Pennsylvania avenue to the Capitol. The historic thoroughfare will be cleared of all traffic and will be roped off with cordons of police on guard as the funeral cortege moves to the sound of funeral dirges by army, navy and marine corps bands.

These Senators and Representatives will act as honorary pallbearers: Senators Lodge, Massachusetts; Curtis, Kansas; Watson, Indiana; Overman, North Carolina; Fletcher, Florida, and Kendrick, Wyoming.

Speaker Gillett and Representatives Burton, Ohio; Butler, Pennsylvania; Cooper, Wisconsin; Garner, Tennessee; Garner, Texas, and Hauer, Iowa.

For honorary pallbearers to represent the army, six Generals, Bullard, Shanks, Muir, Brewster, Ricketts and O'Ryan of the New York National Guards were chosen. Five Admirals, Eberle, Rodman, Wilson, Stitt and Potter, with Major-General LeJune of the Marine Corps, were named to represent the navy.

The order of the funeral cortege from the White House to the Capitol tomorrow will be as follows:

Section One.
The general of the armies of the United States, commanding the military escort.

The military escort.

Section Two.
The civic procession, Senator Henry Cabot Lodge, chief marshal, Clergymen—The Rev. A. Freeman Anderson, acting pastor of the Calvary Baptist Church, Mr. Harding's church, and the Rev. James Sheg, Montgomery, chaplain, House of Representatives.

CHICAGO THROGS SO DENSE FUNERAL TRAIN AT TIMES STOPS TO AVOID ACCIDENTS

Crowds Overflow Onto Tracks as Police Vainly
Try to Keep Rails Clear—Hundreds March Ahead of Engine.

By the Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Aug. 7.—Through miles and miles of people, the Harding funeral train passed through Chicago last evening at a rate scarcely faster than a man could walk.

Fifteen miles from the railroad terminals, throngs grew dense as the funeral cortege drew near to the city. Slowly the black-draped engine moved through throngs at times so dense that they were crowded on the tracks and the train while the police tried to make a path.

As the train reached the yards, where it transferred from the Chicago and Northwestern Railroad to the Baltimore and Ohio to continue on for blocks at every street intersection, the people were massed so densely that the train could not proceed for blocks at every street intersection.

The people were massed so densely that the train could not proceed for blocks at every street intersection.

MARION FUNERAL TO BE HOMELIKE, WITHOUT DISPLAY

It is to be "Personal but Not Private," and All Harding's Friends and Admirers Will Be Welcome.

MAUSELUM TO BE CONSTRUCTED LATER

President's Body Will Not Be Buried Beside Mother and Sister, but Will Be Put in Receiving Vault.

By the Associated Press.

MARION, O., Aug. 7.—The late President Harding will not be buried beside his mother and sister in the Marion cemetery. His body, after the funeral services here Friday afternoon, will be placed in the receiving vault at the cemetery and held there pending the erection of a mausoleum to receive it.

This was part of the funeral arrangements agreed to by Mrs. Harding as communicated to Dr. George H. Harding Jr., the President's brother, and Dr. Carl W. Sawyer, who boarded the funeral train west of Chicago yesterday and which Dr. Sawyer brought back to the President's home town today. He left the funeral train at Willard, O.

The funeral plans, approved by Mrs. Harding, call for the utmost simplicity. The Rev. J. M. Landis, pastor of Trinity Baptist Church, the late President's place of worship when in Marion, will conduct the service.

The service will be conducted at the receiving vault in the cemetery at 3 p. m. There will be no service at the home of Dr. George T. Harding, the late President's father. The Rev. Jesse Swan, a Methodist pastor, will assist at the service.

The choir of Trinity Baptist Church will sing the President's favorite hymn.

Mrs. Harding Approves Plans. Her body will be placed in the receiving vault of the House of Representatives, the president pro tem of the Senate and the Cabinet.

Among the tentative plans vetoed by Mrs. Jane White, 82, she would not approve plans for the body to be in state at the Marion County Court-house.

The body will be borne in a hearse from the funeral train to the Harding home and from the home to the cemetery. No caisson will be used, in accordance with Mrs. Harding's desire that all military display be kept to the minimum.

The simple funeral was said to have been the late President's wish and this desire will be carried out as nearly as possible.

Mrs. Harding, too, it was said, feels that after the state funeral in Washington, the nation has relinquished all claim to her husband.

The route to the cemetery will be via Center street to State, to Delaware, to the cemetery. Mrs. Harding vetoed tentative plans to have the funeral cortege pass down Main street.

Even the plans approved by Mrs. Harding are contingent on the condition of the body on its arrival from Washington. The coffin, it was said, had not been opened during the trip across the continent and would not be until it reached Washington.

All Friends May Attend. The services here, however, will be "personal but not private," Secretary George B. Christian wired Col. J. L. Lamm from the funeral train. The telegram from Secretary Christian stated that all who wish to attend the funeral are welcome to do so.

Lamm indicated that the purpose of the telegram was to correct any impression that might have gone out that the funeral services here would be strictly private and not open to the public.

The funeral train will arrive in Marion about 9 a. m. Thursday over the Erie Railroad. On this train with the President's body will be those who made the Alaska-Texas trip with him and watched and hoped for his recovery in San Francisco. It will be the same train that bore the body to Washington, in addition to those who have so far made up the funeral cortege, the funeral train also will carry Speaker Gillett and President Pro Tem of the Senate, Columbus Andrews of the navy and Maj. C. M. Hildinger of the army, aide to the late President.

President Coolidge, accompanied by other high government officials, will arrive on a special train at 8:30 a. m. Friday.

President Coolidge and the members of his immediate party will make their headquarters on their

MEMORIAL SERVICE IN FOREST PARK FRIDAY AFTERNOON

Civic Gathering in Memory of Late President Arranged for 3 P. M., the Hour of Funeral at Marion, O.

A civic gathering in memory of the late President Harding will be held in Forest Park at 3 p. m. Friday, the hour of the Harding funeral services at Marion, O.

This was decided upon at a meeting in the Mayor's office this morning, in response to a general call. The meeting was attended by about 75 men and women, most of whom represented civic, religious, commercial or other organizations. It was announced that many retail stores and other business establishments had decided to close for the day at 1 p. m. Friday, and a motion was carried by the meeting calling on all business houses to close at 1 p. m. unless they had decided to close all day.

A committee of 14, with the Mayor as honorary chairman, to make arrangements, will meet this afternoon at city hall. Director of Public Welfare Culliff and Park Commissioner Page are to be consulted in making arrangements.

Members of the committee are P. F. Hanson, chairman; Capt. L. A. Daugherty, acting commander of Jefferson Barracks; Mrs. F. H. Littlefield, Capt. Prosser; Col. Frank G. Jones, American Legion; Joseph Union; Paul V. Bunn, Chamber of Commerce; George B. Logan, City Club; Charles Williams; Henry Hoefler, Junior Chamber of Commerce; O. J. McCauley, Frank G. Cook, Director of Public Welfare Culliff; Park Commissioner Page and W. T. Findley, secretary to Mayor Kiel.

South Picnic Grounds Considered. It was pointed out that the Municipal Theater, the amphitheater of Art Hill and other spots in Forest Park are too hot for a daytime gathering at this season. The Mayor suggested the use of the south picnic grounds, near Oakland avenue, for the gathering, because of the shade trees there, and this is being considered.

It is the intention to erect a speaker's platform and have a loud-speaker apparatus, similar to that in the Municipal Theater and the one which was used in the coliseum when President Harding made his World Court address there, installed for the occasion.

All Creeds Urged to Take Part. The Mayor, in a proclamation yesterday, called on the people to meet in the various churches Friday for memorial services. The Rev. George A. Campbell, president of the Church Federation, at the meeting today urged that this idea be abandoned for that of a great central meeting. It was his motion for the meeting that prevailed. He urged that all creeds take part, and suggested that children be taken to the meeting, because President Harding was a lover of children. Members of uniformed divisions of the Red Cross, of which President Harding was a member, are asked by local officers of the organization to wear their uniforms at the meeting, as a mark of respect.

It was announced that the 20 St. Louis posts of the American Legion were prepared to hold a ritualistic service at the meeting. The late chief executive was regarded as a member of the Legion. Wren Stairs Will Close. President Vesper of the Chamber of Commerce offered the motion, which was carried, that all business cease at 1 p. m. Friday, if not all day. Announcement was made that the following businesses and other places would be closed: Associated Retailers, 67 downtown stores, including dry goods, women's apparel, men's furnishings, shoe, jewelry and other stores, to close at 1 p. m. (The dry goods and a few of the other stores will be closed all day Saturday as usual.) Retail Grocery and Butcher's Association, said to include a majority of such stores in the city, close at 1 p. m. Merchants' Exchange, close all day.

Automobile Industry, garages, stores, etc., close all day. Shoe retailers, close 1 p. m. Moving picture theaters will cancel matinees. William T. Findley, the Mayor's secretary, said he had been assured.

Findley, who presided at the meeting, said it was felt that it would be too much to ask picture theaters to close for the evening, too. Some speakers at the meeting expressed belief that this should be done however.

President Vesper of the Chamber of Commerce, sent a communication to all members of the organization, saying that the late President had died during his recent visit here and urging that all factories and business houses close Friday, or, if not possible to close all day, that they close not later than 1 p. m.

Mayor Kiel and President Vesper of the Chamber of Commerce will go to Marion to represent St. Louis at the funeral.

Circuit Judge Mix, who is presiding officer of the St. Louis Circuit Court for this month today issued an order for all divisions of the court to be closed Friday.

A community memorial service will be held Friday night at the Bowman Methodist Episcopal Church, Carter and Atholene avenues. Addresses will be given by the Rev. Dr. Grant A. Robbins and the Rev. Dr. John W. Kensit on President Harding's life and work.

Republican Leaders of Missouri to Attend Funeral at Marion. Several Missouri Republicans, active in party affairs, will depart tomorrow for Marion to attend the funeral of President Harding on Friday.

Among those who have announced their intention to go are Mayor Kiel, National Committeeman Babler, William Sacks, and District Attorney Madison. E. Mont Rely, Walter S. Dismore, and Robert J. Flick, all of Kansas City.

Gov. Hyde, Adjutant General Raupp, Cortez F. Enlow, Secretary of the State Board of Health, and Don C. McVey of Trenton, a member of the Republican State Committee, will attend the services in Washington, and expect also to go to Marion.

East St. Louis Asked to Suspend Business Friday. A resolution requesting East St. Louis citizens, "as a mark of respect and esteem for the departed President," to suspend all business transactions Friday, when Mr. Harding's funeral will be held at Marion, was passed yesterday by the East St. Louis City Council. The resolution ordered all city offices closed for the day. Church bells will be tolled in all East St. Louis churches at the hour of the funeral.

Half Holiday at Webster Friday in Tribute to Late President. Mayor John B. Chipman of Webster Groves issued a proclamation today designating Friday afternoon as a half-holiday in tribute to the late President Harding. City offices and departments will be closed, and the proclamation asks that all business houses do likewise.

Man Injured by Street Car. George Brown, 38 years old, of 2038 East Obar avenue, suffered a fracture of the skull when knocked down by a northbound Grand boulevard car in front of 2100 East Gr. boulevard at 11:35 o'clock last night. The motorman of the car told the police that Brown walked in front of the car.

INDIVIDUAL MOTIONS BY 3 LUMBER FIRMS

Modification of Ouster Decree of State Supreme Court Asked For.

The Shellabarger Lumber Co. today filed with the Supreme Court in Jefferson City a motion for reduction of the $5000 fine assessed against it, and for setting aside the decree ousting it from the State. It was one of the 19 retail lumber concerns fined and ousted by the court's decision of July 23, which ordered also the dissolution of the St. Louis Lumber Trade Exchange.

The Shellabarger Co. states, in its motion, that in the period from 1916 to 1922, with sales totaling $1,319,582, its net profit was only $18,130, or 1.4 per cent. Therefore, it states, its punishment must be for having been in bad company, and the extent of the punishment is spoken of as a "brutal enforcement of the law."

Two other companies filed individual motions yesterday. The Vandeventer Lumber Co. stated that it had resigned from the Lumber Trades Exchange after Attorney General Barrett began the prosecution, also that it originally entered the Exchange only on assurance that its methods had the approval of State and Federal authorities. The Holekamp Lumber Co. pleaded that it had paid no dues and made no reports to the Exchange since last January, having adopted this policy after the death of R. A. Holekamp.

The separate motions were filed after the general motion, filed on behalf of the Exchange and all 19 companies, for a modification of the decree, with reduction of fines and substitution of conditional for unconditional order. This would put the companies on parole.

Reports Being Robbed of $400 by 4 Men in Auto. Granite City Restaurant Proprietor Says Holdup Men Forced Him to Ride Several Miles With Them.

Herat Parizian, proprietor of a restaurant at 944 Pacific avenue, Granite City, reported to the police there at 10:30 a. m. today that he had been robbed of between $400 and $500 in cash half an hour or largely by four armed men in a large touring car, who forced him to ride several miles into the country with them after taking his money.

The robbers sped northeastward on the Horseshoe Lake road towards either Alto or Edwardsville, after parishing him from the automobile, Parizian said.

Parizian had been to a bank in Granite City to cash checks which he received yesterday from employees of the American Steel Foundry. He was returning to his coffee house, walking westward on Niedringhaus avenue between A street and the railroad tracks, when a touring car containing four men stopped beside him. Two of the men, each carrying a revolver, jumped from the machine and forced him into it.

Los Angeles Exposition Closes. By the Associated Press. LOS ANGELES, Cal., Aug. 7.—The Monroe Doctrine Centennial and Motion Picture Exposition, which opened July 2, when Latin-American diplomats came from their posts at Washington for the occasion, closed Sunday night. It was estimated that more than 600,000 persons visited the exposition during the five weeks and one day it was open.

There were few names of the President's engagements last today and it was said all of those who had appointments merely would call to pay their respects. Further conferences on public functions are being deferred until after the funeral of President Harding.

COOLIDGE'S COBBLER FRIEND TO VISIT HIM

James Lucey Complains of Publicity—Doesn't Like to See Name in Papers.

Sober to the Post-Dispatch. BOSTON, Aug. 7.—If one of these days the officials who guard access to President Coolidge see approaching them a medium-sized man, with a scraggly mustache, the clothes and hands of a working man, they would better not take an upstage attitude, for he will, probably, be the President's "cobbler friend."

"James Lucey" will be the name which will be announced to the President just before that not overdone, ostentatious "person" orders: "Show him in immediately."

James said some time ago, when he discovered Calvin Coolidge's genius and his material help may have helped put the President to the highest place this democracy has to offer, but Mr. Coolidge himself said many times that within the philosophy of James Lucey, shoemaker of Northampton, many problems that have confronted him would have remained tangled.

When Mr. Coolidge, as a young man, was practicing law in Northampton he used to drop into James Lucey's basement cobbler shop and gather wisdom. While James would be putting the finishing touches in a pair of shoes the young lawyer would talk to him.

This practice began early in life continued until Mr. Coolidge went to Washington to be Vice President, and has been revived intermittently during visits to his home town. Lucey is a bit more garrulous than Mr. Coolidge, which isn't saying a lot.

They have this in common—they are both keen on doing a job well. Lucey's ambition is to put the best he has into every shoe repair job.

The other day he was being interviewed as to his friendship with the President. He told of his high admiration for his "student friend," but after a few minutes showed considerable impatience.

"I am getting too much publicity," he complained. "I don't like to see my name in the papers. I would rather be known as a good shoemaker than anything else."

"I guess Mr. Coolidge and I are somewhat alike about jobs," he added with a smile.

Governor-General's Office Hears of Clash With Philippine Constabulary.

By the Associated Press.

MANILA, Aug. 7.—Fifty Moros were killed and a number wounded, and three members of the constabulary were wounded in a fight near Lake Lano on the Island of Mindanao yesterday. It was reported to the Governor-General's office today. No details were given.

Constabulary officers announced recently they were investigating reports that Moro religious fanatics were planning an attack on constabulary troops in Lano to avenge the killing of rebellious Moros in 1920 by constabulary forces.

house just before the detectives entered. Felix Wojcik, telling of the shooting in the kitchen, pointed out Detective Whitley as the one who shot his brother. The detectives have all said that McNiff and Kelly were the only ones among them who fired.

Reil said he sought to leave the house, saying he had only come there as a chauffeur, and that one of the detectives said, "You're a liar, you came here to get whisky," and struck him. He said he saw the shooting of both Wojcik and Boroski, but saw no weapon in Wojcik's hands. He said Kelly appeared to him to be doing all the shooting. He could not say who shot Kelly and McNiff.

Cecilia Boroski said one of the detectives said to her brother Walter, "We wanted you, and we've got you now."

Special Officer John J. Whiteley, fourth member of the police party, told a story similar to that of Lieut. Walton. He said Boroski was the first to fall when Wojcik began shooting.

Jess Finkle, 19 years old, who was on the second floor of the house, denied having been on the first floor during the disturbance, saying he was in bed at the time. He said he heard Felix Wojcik cry, "They're killing my brother."

The remaining witnesses were Felix Wojcik, Ernest Reil, Cecilia Boroski and Mrs. Mary Wojcik, the first named being James Wojcik's widow. They told a story which was the same in most of its details, and which accounted fully for the killing of both Wojcik and Boroski, but not for the wounding of the policemen. All saw some of the police party fire on Wojcik or Boroski, they said, but none of them saw Wojcik even have a weapon in his hand.

These witnesses all testified that Lieut. Walton, upon entering, applied an opprobrious name to the house, and said to the others with him, "Let's clean it out." They all said that James Wojcik protested against the officers' entrance, and made a formal demand for a search warrant, and that the detectives said, "We don't need a search warrant, we are police officers."

Felix Wojcik and Reil told of a picnic which the family party had attended. They said a man and woman were dancing in the parlor when they returned, and that they did not know who the dancers, and another man with them, were. Mrs. Wojcik, in telling of the visitors, said they were two women and a man. The three visitors, all agreed, left the

COINS FLATTENED BY FUNERAL TRAIN

Kept as Mementos.

CEDAR RAPIDS, Ia., Aug. 7.—One bouquet was placed on President Harding's funeral train yesterday was gathered by a committee from the women's auxiliary, S. Hanford Post, American Legion, who drove into the country, picked armfuls of wild flowers and entwined them with gladioli.

Fearing the train would not stop here, the committee drove to Beverly, six miles west, where it knew the train would stop for water. The flowers were placed aboard there. Thousands of persons here obtained mementos of the funeral train by placing coins on the track which were flattened by the heavy wheels. Dollars, dimes, nickels and pennies were rescued after the train had passed.

the night by railroad officials in charge of the train to regain at least a part of the time lost yesterday in Iowa and Illinois, and especially Chicago.

The State of Indiana, not to be outdone by her sister states to the west, paid an almost continuous tribute last night as the train thundered along in the darkness. Those who reverently waited the passing of the train could be distinguished by the station platforms and the glare of automobile lamps at almost every point the railroad crossed a highway. But they were there and they were able to present their respects to the honored dead and catch a glimpse of the flag-covered coffin, with its military guard, in the last car.

Mrs. Harding to White House. Entering Ohio, the throng seemed to increase in size, despite the lateness of the hour, and at the larger cities of Akron and Youngstown thousands were waiting to pay a final mark of respect.

Mrs. Harding was stealing herself today as the train hurried onward for the scenes of sorrow and mourning in the capital. Those who had talked with her said she was quite prepared to go through the formal services in the same calm manner she had maintained during the trip across the country. Everything will be made as easy for her as possible, and when the train arrives in Washington she will be escorted from the station before the body is taken from the train and driven to the White House in advance of the cortege. She will take a route through the quiet streets, avoiding the more crowded thoroughfares, such as Pennsylvania avenue.

Mrs. Harding will be accompanied to the White House by a few of her most intimate friends. The other members of the party which accompanied President Harding to the Pacific Coast and to Alaska will go to the White House with the body and its military and official civilian escort.

President's Sister Boards Train. The train reached Willard, O., at 5:10 a. m. Eastern Standard time, and left at 5:23, after stopping to change engines.

Mrs. Abigail Harding, the President's sister, boarded the train at Willard to continue to Washington. The train had moved only a few miles out of Chicago when Mrs. Harding expressed a desire to have the afternoon newspapers brought to her. When they were delivered she evidenced no little interest in the accounts of the day's events and particularly all that was printed from Washington telling of affairs there.

Mrs. Harding has requested railroad officials to see that the train travels no faster than 50 miles an hour at any time, and that its maximum speed in cities and towns, where crowds have gathered, be 10 miles an hour, according to a telegram made public here by Supt. B. F. Stevens of the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad.

bulletins such as are fired from the police revolvers. Circuit Attorney Siders, after hearing the post-mortem report, said it appeared to indicate that both men were killed by police bullets. McNiff and Kelly, in statements at the hospital, have said they thought Wojcik shot Boroski accidentally, as they were not firing toward Boroski.

Since Wojcik's death the police have obtained statements of several witnesses implicating him in confidence games, perpetrated mostly by another man whom Wojcik introduced to the victim, but in one case by Wojcik himself. The swindlers were worked upon Polish persons who were known to have saved money. At Desloge, Mo., a man whom Wojcik is said to have introduced to a Polish couple, robbed them outright of $6000, after having learned where they kept their money. As such swindlers live in constant fear of arrest, these facts appeared to explain Wojcik's desperate behavior when the detectives appeared at his house.

Special Officer John J. Whiteley, fourth member of the police party, told a story similar to that of Lieut. Walton. He said Boroski was the first to fall when Wojcik began shooting.

Jess Finkle, 19 years old, who was on the second floor of the house, denied having been on the first floor during the disturbance, saying he was in bed at the time. He said he heard Felix Wojcik cry, "They're killing my brother."

They told a story which was the same in most of its details, and which accounted fully for the killing of both Wojcik and Boroski, but not for the wounding of the policemen. All saw some of the police party fire on Wojcik or Boroski, they said, but none of them saw Wojcik even have a weapon in his hand.

These witnesses all testified that Lieut. Walton, upon entering, applied an opprobrious name to the house, and said to the others with him, "Let's clean it out." They all said that James Wojcik protested against the officers' entrance, and made a formal demand for a search warrant, and that the detectives said, "We don't need a search warrant, we are police officers."

Felix Wojcik and Reil told of a picnic which the family party had attended. They said a man and woman were dancing in the parlor when they returned, and that they did not know who the dancers, and another man with them, were. Mrs. Wojcik, in telling of the visitors, said they were two women and a man. The three visitors, all agreed, left the house just before the detectives entered. Felix Wojcik, telling of the shooting in the kitchen, pointed out Detective Whitley as the one who shot his brother. The detectives have all said that McNiff and Kelly were the only ones among them who fired.

Reil said he sought to leave the house, saying he had only come there as a chauffeur, and that one of the detectives said, "You're a liar, you came here to get whisky," and struck him. He said he saw the shooting of both Wojcik and Boroski, but saw no weapon in Wojcik's hands. He said Kelly appeared to him to be doing all the shooting. He could not say who shot Kelly and McNiff.

Cecilia Boroski said one of the detectives said to her brother Walter, "We wanted you, and we've got you now."

Special Officer John J. Whiteley, fourth member of the police party, told a story similar to that of Lieut. Walton. He said Boroski was the first to fall when Wojcik began shooting.

Jess Finkle, 19 years old, who was on the second floor of the house, denied having been on the first floor during the disturbance, saying he was in bed at the time. He said he heard Felix Wojcik cry, "They're killing my brother."

The remaining witnesses were Felix Wojcik, Ernest Reil, Cecilia Boroski and Mrs. Mary Wojcik, the first named being James Wojcik's widow. They told a story which was the same in most of its details, and which accounted fully for the killing of both Wojcik and Boroski, but not for the wounding of the policemen. All saw some of the police party fire on Wojcik or Boroski, they said, but none of them saw Wojcik even have a weapon in his hand.

NEW YORK BAR TO CONDUCT INQUIRY IN MAXWELL CASE

Investigation Will Be Confined to Methods Used by Attorneys—Counter Charges Made.

DISTORTIONS IN AFFIDAVITS ALLEGED

District Attorney's Office Involved in Exchange of Accusations as to Handling of Case.

By Leased Wire From the New York
Bureau of the Post-Dispatch.
NEW YORK, Aug. 7.—An investigation of the Maxwell anonymous letter case will be made by the Grievance Committee of the New York Bar Association, it was learned yesterday. The Bar Association has requested copies of all papers in the case.

Horace A. Phinney, representing the committee, admitted this action had been taken, but refused to discuss it.

The investigation by the Bar Association will be confined to the way in which the case has been conducted by the attorneys involved. There has been much discussion of the way the last investigation was conducted.
Maxwell charged the District Attorney's office was being used by Allan
A. Ryan, whose wife's name was linked with Maxwell's in recent anonymous letters, as an instrument to work his spite. This charge reflected on Edwin P. Kilroe, Assistant District Attorney, who had charge of presentation of evidence to the grand jury.

Kilroe's Attitude.
Kilroe feels that he has been unfairly treated. He does not understand why the case was taken out of his hands after the grand jury had reported. He defends himself against charges based on a brief presented in opposition to Maxwell's counsel, Robert S. Johnstone. He charges that in affidavits submitted by Nathan Burkan, also of counsel for Maxwell, there are distortions of the truth.

This exchange of accusations brought the matter to the attention of the Bar Association, while Ferdinand Pecora, Acting District Attorney, has declared that he will look into Kilroe's conduct in the proceedings.

The affidavits Kilroe finds objectionable were filed with the first motion made by Maxwell's counsel for the privilege of inspecting the minutes of the grand jury sessions.
The purpose of them was to substantiate the contention of counsel that no evidence strong enough to warrant indictments had been found. Several of those who had testified before the grand jury made affidavits and one was signed by Jerome Baum, said to be a private detective.

Wrong Identifications.
Baum, according to his affidavit, set out to interview the various witnesses. One of these was Thomas M. Fay—Baum said he was an elevator man formerly employed at the apartment house, 729 West 79th street, where Maxwell lived.
Another witness was R. J. F. Allan, who Baum said, was formerly a doorman at the same apartment house. A third was Fred Raus, and Baum identified him as a man who once occupied an apartment at No. 212 West 90th street, but who had moved away.

Not one of these identifications sworn to by Baum is correct. The Thomas M. Fay who testified before the grand jury is a captain in the police department in the detective division, according to the minutes. The R. J. F. Allan who testified, far from being a doorman at Maxwell's apartment, is vice president of the Guarantee Safe Deposit Co. Raus lives in Queens and is a department head of the Commercial Cable Co.

Affidavits Submitted.
One affidavit submitted in support of the motion was signed by Mrs. Margaret Maxwell, from whom Maxwell separated 19 years ago. In her affidavit she comes to his aid, saying:

"I told Mr. Kilroe that I did not believe the defendant wrote any of these letters, nor had anything to do with the writing of them. I told him that it was impossible, as he was not that kind of a man, and that I had implicit faith and confidence in him so far as those letters were concerned."

According to the minutes, Mrs.
Maxwell made no such statement as this before the grand jury.
Another affidavit submitted by Burkan was signed by Julius C.
Rosenthal, a business associate of Maxwell. In it Rosenthal says:
"I stated before the grand jury that from seven years I had associated with the defendant I was familiar with the fact that he could not operate a typewriter."

Study of the grand jury minutes reveals no record that he ever made such a statement.

Ryan, who is in seclusion in the Adirondacks, refused to talk about the case.

Zonite!

The Greatest of all Antiseptics

What It Is

ZONITE is a concentrated, stabilized and perfected form of the Carrel-Dakin Solution. The Carrel-Dakin Solution is an antiseptic developed during the World War by two eminent scientists. War hospital records show that it reduced amputations and deaths from infection over seventy per cent and saved the lives of hundreds of thousands of desperately wounded men. It has been adopted and is in daily use by the medical profession and in hospitals throughout the civilized world.

By standard laboratory tests Zonite has greater germicidal strength than pure carbolic acid. It has about seventy-five times the germicidal strength of peroxide of hydrogen and forty times the germicidal strength of any solution of carbolic acid, iodine, bichloride of mercury, etc., that can be applied with safety to the human body.

In addition to its high germicidal efficiency, Zonite is non-poisonous, non-irritating, non-caustic and healing. It can be used freely and frequently on the delicate membranes and tissues of the human body without harm.

What It Does

For Preventing Contagious Diseases

Until the discovery of this form of antiseptic, it was impossible to introduce freely into the mouth and nose any antiseptic solution at sufficient strength to destroy disease germs effectively. It is in the prevention of germ diseases, therefore, that Zonite finds one of its greatest fields of usefulness. During epidemics of colds, grippe, scarlet fever, diphtheria, measles, whooping cough, sore throat and other respiratory diseases, when every sneeze and draft scatters millions of germs, Zonite should be used frequently as a throat spray and nasal douche.

For Cuts and Wounds

Zonite should be promptly applied to a fresh cut or wound to destroy the germs which cause blood poisoning and other similar forms of infection. In addition to acting as a disinfectant, it will shorten the process of healing and greatly reduce the usual pain and inflammation.

As a Mouth Wash

A solution of one teaspoonful Zonite added to one-quarter glass of water used night and morning as a mouth wash will destroy breath odors and act as an excellent preventive against pyorrhea. Dental authorities have stated that the daily use of Zonite in this manner, together with regular dental inspection, reduces the likelihood of contracting this disease to a minimum.

Sore Throat

Nearly all the ailments of the throat are due to bacterial infection. Prompt relief, therefore, can not be obtained without the use of an effective germicide.
One part Zonite to five parts water as a gargle or throat spray usually clears up and controls throat infections. In severe cases, especially when ulcerations are present, the throat should be swabbed with pure Zonite and your physician called. Begin treatment promptly when symptoms first appear.

For Burns, Scalds and Blisters

Zonite is especially valuable in the treatment of burns, scalds and blisters. It prevents infection, aids in removing charred or dead tissue, helps to reduce inflammation, and accelerates healing. It also lessens scars and disfigurements that are apt to follow wounds of this character.

For Personal Hygiene

Zonite is the ideal antiseptic for personal hygiene.
Poisonous caustic compounds, such as bichloride of mercury, phenol and cresol solutions, etc., are tremendously harmful when used regularly for douche medication. Any physician will verify this statement.
Write for the Zonite booklet on personal hygiene for women.

For Dandruff

Dandruff (seborrhea sicca) and many other scalp irritations are due to bacterial infection. Zonite has proved remarkably effective in removing these annoying conditions.
It kills the micro-organisms, dissolves and removes the scaling incrustations and exercises a stimulating and tonic effect on the scalp tissues and hair follicles.

For Catarrh

Zonite affords a most efficient local treatment for this condition. Used as a nasal spray it quickly loosens the hardened incrustations of mucous matter, clears up the nasal passages and soothes and heals congested membranes. Note—Atomizer fittings in which Zonite is used must be of hard rubber.

Rash, Skin Eruptions

There are numerous kinds of skin eruptions classed as eczema. Many of these yield readily to the application of Zonite. A few trials will demonstrate whether or not the antiseptic will be of service. Chronic skin troubles and skin troubles induced by system disorders should receive the attention of a physician.

For Old Sores

Zonite is remarkably effective in healing old sores and slow healing wounds. Used in a strong solution it will aid in dissolving dead tissue and removing proud flesh. By killing the germs, it stops the discharge of pus, rendering the sore clean and healthy. A milder solution used daily will aid in rapid healing.

Poison Ivy

In cases of poison ivy and similar plant poisoning, Zonite is perhaps the most effective remedial agent known to materia medica. It acts with extraordinary promptness in cleaning up the inflammation and restoring the skin to a normal condition.

For Insect Bites

As a relief from bee stings, mosquito bites, chiggers and many other insect bites, Zonite is particularly effective. If promptly used, the antiseptic will lessen the pain and reduce swelling and irritation.

Bad Breath (halitosis)

Breath odors are usually caused by a bacteriological condition of the mouth. Zonite is the one form of antiseptic with real germicidal power that can be used freely in the mouth. Its effect is far more thorough and far more lasting than pleasant tasting mouth washes heretofore used for this purpose.

For Body Odors

Objectionable body odors are caused by a germ (bacterium foetidum) which infects the sweat glands of the arm-pits, feet, etc. A scientific body deodorant must not only dispel the odor but destroy the germs which cause it. Deodor-ants which merely replace one odor with another or clog the pores are harmful and inefficient.
Zonite kills the germs, destroys body odors promptly and effectively and leaves no odor of its own.

Rids the Home of Deadly Poisons

It is no longer necessary to keep the skull and cross-bones type of antiseptic in the home. Zonite, while highly germicidal, can cause no fatal accident. It also supplants pleasant tasting mouth washes and gargles, heretofore in general use, that, according to government reports, have no detectable germicidal power.
Zonite is a clear, colorless liquid that does not stain and leaves no odor. It is the last word of science on the subject of antiseptics. Ask your druggist for the Zonite "Handbook on Antisepsis," which describes fully the protection which the antiseptic brings to the home.

DIVORCES BROTHER OF MRS. ENRICO CARUSO

Interlocutory Decree and $75 Weekly Alimony Granted to Mrs. Park Benjamin.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, Aug. 7.—Supreme Court Justice Taylor filed an order in Supreme Court at White Plains yesterday, granting an interlocutory divorce decree to Mrs. Katherine D. Benjamin from Park Benjamin, former broker and brother of Mrs. Enrico Caruso. He allows Mrs. Benjamin $75 a week alimony and custody of the two children, Park Benjamin Jr., 6 years old, and Betty Benjamin, 7, with permission for their father to see them occasionally. He confirmed the report and findings of Mayor Weeks of White Plains, who, as referee, heard testimony in the case. The decree provides that the plaintiff may remarry, but forbids the defendant, "except by express permission of the court."

The couple were married in 1909. Benjamin is said to be in business in South America.

Although efforts have been made to keep the testimony secret, it was learned that a friend of the defendant testified Benjamin sailed for South America, accompanied by "an unknown young woman" with whom, other witnesses swore, he had registered as his wife at a hotel in this city.

The witness said he visited Benjamin on the steamer, that the state-room of the young woman adjoined the broker's suite, and that the defendant said "she was sailing with him."

A room clerk at the Hotel Langwell, West Forty-fourth street, testified that on April 20, 1933, Benjamin registered at the hotel with the "unknown" woman as "Mr. and Mrs. Charles Goodrich." The witness said she was not as good looking as Mrs. Benjamin.

The clerk said Benjamin gave him a check for $500, signed "Park Benjamin."

CONVICT WHO ESCAPED TO SEE SICK MOTHER WINS FREEDOM

Hyde Commutes Sentence of O. L. Dreyden from Seven Years to 30 Months.

JEFFERSON CITY, Aug. 7.—Governor Hyde yesterday commuted the seven-year sentence of O. L. Dreyden, convicted in Buchanan County and Cole County of grand larceny and escaping from the penitentiary. Dreyden will be released today.

Dreyden was convicted in October, 1929, at St. Joseph of automobile theft, and sentenced to five years. In November, he received word from California that his mother was seriously ill. With the prison authorities to go and see her, he escaped by climbing over the walls of the penitentiary, according to papers on file in the Secretary of State's office here. For this offense he was sentenced to serve two years more.

He made several applications for commutation of parole, and finally the state penal board recommended that his sentence be commuted to 30 months.

Thomas Phillips, convicted of stealing fowls in Holt County and sentenced to three years in the penitentiary from May 15, 1932, was paroled to a resident of Des Moines, Iowa.

WILL CLOSE ON FRIDAY

American Business Houses in Mexico Will Display Mourning.

MEXICO CITY, Aug. 7.—All American business houses and industries in Mexico City and throughout the republic are to close their doors, half-mast their flags and display mourning on Friday in respect to the memory of the late President Harding. Numerous establishments and those conducted by other nationals have signified their intention of closing for a half day.

Various American business organizations held a meeting yesterday and decided to hold memorial services Friday in the largest American church here. Reports from the larger cities of the country indicate that American business establishments in those localities are to adopt similar methods of honoring the late President.

TICKETS ON SALE FOR ICE FUND MINSTRELS

Show for Benefit of Babies to Be Given at Orpheum Evening of Aug. 25.

Reserved seat tickets are now on sale at Baldwin's, 1111 Olive street, for the minstrel show which is to be given for the benefit of the Post-Dispatch Free Ice for Babies' Milk Fund at the Orpheum Theater, Saturday evening, Aug. 25, by members of the Big Brothers' Minstrels, assisted by the St. Louis Quartet and other local talent.

Included in the Big Brothers' Minstrels, of which Clarence Cosby is director, are the following: Cyril Acheson, Edgar Acheson, Edward Cosby, Herbert Cosby, Newton Edwards, Frank Fisher, Ralph Fisher, A. C. Koech, Cecil Long, Alvin Moline, Clarence Oertel, Roy Rieker, F. F. Schultz, A. W. Thacher, John C. Eoff, interloper; Robert E. Eoff, T. H. Gillespie, Arthur Moline, Robert Ries, and men; and O. Wade Fallert, accompanist. The St. Louis Quartet members are: Charles E. Fiesh, W. W. Mackenzie, James W. Porteous and Robert X. Stark.

The usual Orpheum prices will prevail, less war tax, which is not charged when the entire proceeds of a show are devoted to charitable purposes.

Arrangements are being made for an elaborate parade Saturday noon through the downtown section of St. Louis, to be participated in by a large group of prominent business men who are actively interested in promoting the affair for the babies. Details of this division of the minstrel entertainment will be announced later.

EIGHT HURT WHEN RUNAWAY TROLLEY CAR HITS BUILDING

Motorman Got Off and Fought to Set Brakes While Power Was Off.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Aug. 7.—Nine persons were slightly injured here yesterday afternoon when a one-man trolley car raced wildly for five blocks down a steep hill and crashed into a building.

A. M. Buckner, operator of the car, was said by passengers to have left the car at the top of the hill at a moment when the power was off, due to a local storm. A dozen persons were aboard. Having failed to set the brake before leaving the operator was several yards away when the car suddenly caught motion with the renewed current and began its wild charge downhill and backward.

Still dashing to overtake the car the operator is said to have shouted to the occupants to jump. Several did so, eight of whom were among the injured. B. F. Overstreet, a cripple, was the only occupant who remained with the runaway car. He was unable to jump. Although inside the car when it crashed, his injuries were confined to body bruises and cuts.

SCANDINAVIAN FARMERS COME

600 Arrive at New York—Some Said to Bring $20,000.

NEW YORK, Aug. 7.—Six hundred Danish, Norwegian and Swedish farmers, most of them bringing their families, arrived yesterday on the steamship Frederick, en route to farms in the West, Northwest and Canada. Some were said to have brought from $20,000 to $10,000 with which to purchase land.

Three stowaways were found on board. All were from Copenhagen, and said they had intended taking a trolley trip from New York to Minneapolis, thence to California and Alaska, all of which they supposed were near New York.

UNION CHAUFFEURS IN WATER DEPARTMENT LEAVE JOBS

Balk at Driving Nonunion Inspection Men Who Replaced Workers in Half-Holiday Walkout.

Twelve union chauffeurs of the Water Department "walked out" yesterday afternoon because Water Commissioner Wall told their business agent that nothing could be done about their protests against driving nonunion inspection men of the department around the city. The inspection men are new employees, hired to replace about 90 men who quit July 25 because they were denied a Saturday half-holiday.

The Commissioner hired seven nonunion chauffeurs today and Water Department business went on as usual. Two of the nonunion inspection men repaired a fire plug at Twelfth and Poplar streets yesterday noon under police protection. When the policemen left the scene several men, said to be strikers, chased the workers into City Hall, where they ran breathlessly to Commissioner Wall's office and said one of their pursuers had threatened to kill them.

SOUTHWESTERN BELL WOULD ISSUE $50,000,000 IN BONDS

Missouri Public Service Commission Asked to Approve Financing of Extensions of Lines.

Permission to issue $50,000,000 of 5 per cent 30-year bonds was asked today by the Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. in a petition to the Missouri Public Service Commission.

The stated use for the money is the retirement of $17,974,000 in notes held by the American Telephone and Telegraph Co. and plant extensions in the five states served. Extensions require about $15,000,000 a year, it was stated. The company now has 745,240 telephones in use in Missouri, Arkansas, Kansas, Oklahoma, Texas and part of Illinois. Additions are at the rate of 50,000 a year.

E. D. Nims, president of the company, said that between $300,000 and $400,000 of the sum derived from the bonds was intended for use in expanding the facilities in St. Louis. "I do not believe that citizens of St. Louis realize the rate of growth of the city as indicated by telephone demand," Nims said. "We expected that our acquisition of the Kinloch property would give us added facilities to satisfy all demands for 1934. This has not proved out. We will be compelled to add to our program very largely to care for the demand now apparent."

The commission took the application under advisement.

GRANITE CITY BOY DROWNED IN PARK SWIMMING POOL

Body of Gerton Frazier, 11, Seen at Bottom Just After He Entered Water.

Gerton Frazier, 11 years old, son of Mr. and Mrs. Pearl Frazier, 1639 C street, Granite City, Ill., was drowned at 10:30 a. m. today in a swimming pool in Wilson Park.

The lad, who could not swim, had gone to the pool with other boys, against the advice of his mother, and after being in the pool about 10 minutes, his body was seen at the bottom in about five feet of water. No one saw him drown.

NEGRO LODGE HONORS HARDING

Delegates and visitors at the opening session of the sixteenth annual national grand council of the Ancient United Knights and Daughters of Africa, a negro organization, here yesterday, adopted a resolution to adjourn for 30 minutes as "an expression of homage and tribute" to the late President Harding.

The convention is being held at Metropolitan A. M. E. Zion Church, Garrison and Lucas avenues. An encampment of the uniformed rank of the organization is being held this year for the first time on the Ranken track, near Compton avenue and Market street. The uniformed members wear var-colored semi-military outfits. Compton avenue and other sections of the negro district are lavishly decorated in bunting for the week. National headquarters of the order are at Compton and Lucas avenues. There will be a parade through the business district about noon Friday and a competitive drill in the Coliseum that night. Adjournment will be Saturday.

ODOR OF HOPS CAUSES RAID

The odor of cooking hops attracted a patrolman when he went to the home of Mrs. Gertrude Ryan, 25 years old, a widow, of 2422 Cass avenue, last night to inquire about a runaway girl. Later he confiscated a batch of home brew, which he found on the gas stove in the kitchen. 15 quarts of bottled brew and 40 empty bottles. Mrs. Ryan, her boarder, John Terney, 27, a chauffeur, and Frank McDonough, 24, of 2766 Howard street, who were in the house, were arrested.

Two barrels of wine were found in a grocery at 910 Biddle street yesterday by policemen who went there with a search warrant after a negro had informed them he had purchased a gallon of wine at the store.

ANTIVACCINATIONIST ON BOND

The case against Edgar W. Anderson, 42 years old, 3174 California avenue, who was arrested Sunday at Union Station after urging negroes to resist the city's vaccination measures for incoming permanent residents from the South, was continued until August 21 when called in Police Court today.

Anderson, a former practicing chiropractor, is charged with interfering with Health Department officers, creating a disturbance and resisting arrest. He was released on bond yesterday, after being taken to police headquarters from the City Hospital, where he was forcibly vaccinated Sunday, under regulations for prisoners.

CHICAGO U. STIRRED UP BY ANONYMOUS NOVEL

Some of Faculty Characters Said to Be Easily Identified in Story of Campus Life.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
CHICAGO, Aug. 7.—"Grey Towers," an anonymous novel published this week, is causing unusual excitement at the University of Chicago. It was written, presumably, by a former teacher of English in the university.

Some of the characters are said to be easily identified. No one escapes the author's vitriolic pen, from the president to junior instructors. Some of the passages that are causing comment at the school are:

"Co-ed went intentionally only into the offices of the men instructors."

"The problems one 'prof' assigns every year may be obtained for $25 a notebook from fellows who have had the course."

"The school is getting too large—much too large. And the class of students is undesirable—a very large portion from the West Side Jewish districts."

"Prexy" in his dotage plays with the idea of new buildings as a spoiled child with his toys. Every quarter he lets great teachers leave for other universities because he would never raise their salaries nor give them the advancement rank they deserved."

"The spirit of the place is amusing and cold."

The author divides members of the faculty into three classes—pseudo-intellectual bigots and posing aesthetes. Shots are taken at alleged faculty petting parties and a description is given of the heroine's adventures with a male professor late at night in his office. Eventually the heroine quits the school.

EARNINGS OF PRINTERS IN U. S. AVERAGE $1919 YEARLY

Members of International Union, Including This Country and Canada, Now 68,144.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Aug. 7.—As the selling agency for the labor of its members, the International Typographical Union in the last fiscal year made sales totaling $130,792,901, says the report of J. W. Hays, secretary-treasurer of the union, prepared for the union's sixty-third convention to be held in Atlanta, Ga., Aug. 13 to 18.

Average earnings of the member in the year were $1919, as against an average of $1785 in 1922. Benefits for the membership in the year were 94 per cent of all expenditures of the union, the report says, benefit items being listed as the mortuary benefits, artistic benefits, assistance, old age pensions and the Union Printers Home upkeep. Money expended for purposes other than those amounted to $6.02 a member. The membership of the union, which covers the United States and Canada is 68,144, a decrease of 602 from that in 1922. The decrease is accounted for by suspensions or expulsions.

MUSIC AT WEDDING IN FRENCH MAYOR'S OFFICES

It Is Official but Must There Also Be Sentiment?

Special Correspondence of the Post-Dispatch and New York World.
PARIS, July 25.—The municipality of Pantin, just outside the Paris city wall, has conceived the happy idea that the civil marriage, obligatory in France, is singularly out of keeping with the spirit of festivity with which a French marriage sparkles. The Mayors' offices are very often like other French official bureaus, dull, ugly, unventilated; a gendarme or two would complete the picture of a court of justice.

Why not make the civil marriage as attractive as the religious marriage? asks Pantin. So the progressive municipality has devised a scheme by which the civil marriage may be musical at the will of the aspiring couple. No doubt flowers and red carpet will follow. In the mean time, with that passion for order which gives you a first, second, third, or tenth class funeral here, there are to be degrees of musical services.

The Pantin scheme has received a good deal of attention, and other municipalities seem likely to follow its example.

HIP AND KNEE FRACTURED

Man, 88, Injured When He Falls; Overcome by Heat.
Enos de Vault, 88 years old, 1535 Benton street, a carpenter, suffered fracture of the left hip and left knee when he fell to the sidewalk yesterday while walking at Fifteenth and Benton street. His collapse was caused by heat.

Passersby carried him to a physician's office. The fractures were not discovered until he was examined at the City Hospital.

Soldier Given Military Funeral.
Lieut. George K. Ferguson, attached to the quartermasters' department of the United States Army, who died at Camp Houston July 24, was buried in Calvary cemetery July 27 with military honors. A squad from Jefferson Barracks fired the salute and the pallbearers were soldiers from the barracks. The widow, two children and Lieut. Ferguson's father, George J. Ferguson, survive.

New Summer Radio Set

—Travels in Your Hand and Brings in the Entire Continent

DE FOREST'S new discoveries in radio mean that for thousands of wide awake Americans this summer radio is going to be as much fun and as valuable as it was last winter.

Radio needed just two things to make it a summer sport—portability and no fear of static.

The De Forest Reflex Sets have brought these great advances to radio, so that you can enjoy your set this summer.

There are two Reflex Sets—one for home use, the D-7-A at $125, with three tubes, two-foot loop aerial and cross-continent range; the other the D-10 Portable, at $150, with loop aerial, cross-continent range, and the dry battery cells contained inside its own cabinet. Either of these sets operates equally well on A storage battery and B battery or exclusively on dry cells. When you think that you can now buy your storage battery for about $2.00 in the form of three twin heavy duty dry cells, you see what this has done for the American public.

The second big feature which makes the De Forest Reflexes the ideal summer sets is the fact that static has been discovered to be directional, just like broadcast, and just as you turn the loop to shut off the broadcasting stations you don't want to receive, so you shut off most of the static when you receive on the loop.

When you consider that the De Forest Reflexes are the only radio receivers made which give you these five great features—indoor loop—cross-continent range—dry batteries only—portability—ease of operation—you know why these sets are sweeping the country. We shall have difficulty producing enough De Forest Reflexes to meet the demand this summer. De Forest sells only direct to the public, through authorized agents. If you don't know where you can find De Forest sets, write us and we will give you the address of the De Forest agency nearest you.

Why You Should Have A De Forest Reflex This Summer

The New York Times says, "The Reflex Circuit has several advantages over the Regenerative Circuits generally used."

De Forest makes the ONLY Reflex Radio Receiver.

You are tired of the Out-Door Antenna with its lack of Selectivity.

De Forest Reflexes use the Two-Foot Loop Aerial.

Other Manufacturers "Claim" distances up to 1500 Miles for Sets of about this price.

De Forest Reflexes hear across the Continent—3000 Miles.

You don't want to be chained to a storage battery this summer.

All De Forest Reflexes operate either on storage batteries or dry cells—and the new Portable Reflex has the dry battery cells inside its cabinet.

You want ease of operation—selectivity—clear reception.

De Forest Reflexes are the easiest long distance sets to operate.

HYDROPHOBIA CAUSED DEATH OF BOY IS CORONER'S VERDICT

Boy's Father Testified Child Was Bitten by Dog Six Weeks Ago.

A coroner's verdict of death from hydrophobia was returned yesterday in the case of Woodrow Wilson Holloway, 5 years old, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Holloway of Freeburg, Mo., who died at the Lutheran Hospital Sunday night.

The boy's father testified that the child had been bitten on the ear by a dog six weeks ago. A Freeburg physician said the injury was not serious and only minor treatment was given. Last Friday the child became ill, but the case was diagnosed as a "rising in the ear" and it was not until Sunday, when the boy showed fright at the sight of water, that it was realized he was suffering from hydrophobia. His parents and the physician brought him to the St. Louis hospital, where he died five hours after arriving.

MISS KLINGBEIL DID NOT DIE FROM ILLEGAL OPERATION

Coroner's Inquiry Shows Death Was Caused by Peritonitis. Due to Stomach Trouble.

A coroner's verdict of death from general peritonitis, due to a perforating ulcer of the stomach, has been returned in the case of Miss Emily Klingbeil, 25 years old, of 5530 A. Wren Avenue, who died at the Baptist Hospital at 10:30 a. m. Thursday. The cause of death was fixed by a coroner's autopsy. This and statements of physicians at the inquest, Friday, showed that she had not undergone an illegal operation, and that there would have been no occasion for such an operation.

After being operated on at the hospital she signed a note, at the request of the surgeon, telling that she had previously gone to a physician whose office is in an uptown building, and stating that he had caused her great pain during an examination he made. The police report of the case Friday erroneously said that an operation, believed to have been illegal, had been performed.

FACES HIS 16TH DEPORTATION

Champion Stowaway Again Discovered on Ship to U. S.

NEW YORK, Aug. 7.—Oscar Beall, 32, world's champion stowaway, completed his sixteenth voyage to America yesterday, when the President Fillmore docked here. He was discovered when the ship was two days out from Bremen, and placed in the brig after he refused to work more than eight hours a day. Beall has been trying to get into America by the stowaway route for the last two years and a half. For the sixteenth time he was taken to Ellis Island to be deported.

TURKISH TREATY OF MUCH INTEREST TO U. S. COMMERCE

New Pact Gives Most Favored Nation Treatment in Regard to Duties on Exports and Imports.

'CLOSE CO-OPERATION' FORESEEN BY GREW

Americans to Be Subject Only to Their Own Courts in Matters of Personal Status.

By the Associated Press.
LAUSANNE, Aug. 7.—With the ratification of two treaties signed yesterday the relations between the United States and Turkey enter upon a new era. Joseph C. Grew, the American representative in a brief address after the signature, declared that the conventions permit "close and useful co-operation between the two countries."

Grew recalled that during the last few years Turkey has been the scene of events of far reaching significance, and as a consequence her relations with other countries have been greatly modified, her system of government and political ideals changed, and it seemed fitting that these conditions should furnish the occasion and reason for the conclusion of treaties with the United States.

Imet Pasha speaks.
Imet Pasha laid emphasis on the ties of democracy binding the United States and Turkey. He depicted Turkey as a "new Turkey" and a land whose government was based on the will of the people; hence his pleasure on entering on friendly and co-operative relations with the great American republic.

The two treaties, one general, and the other relating to extradition, printed in French, were signed by Grew, Imet Pasha, Riza Nur Bey and Hassan Bey. The two delegations sat around a table in the drawing room of the Ouchy Hotel and affirmed their signatures in the presence of a small group of Americans and others.

In the general convention the contracting parties agreed to terminate all treaties existing between them and capitulations are completely abrogated.

Treaty Provisions.
Each party agrees to receive diplomatic and consular representatives who will be accorded most favored nation treatment. Citizens of the United States will be entitled to travel and reside in Turkey on condition that they comply with the laws of the country, and to engage in personal, commercial and industrial activities permitted by law to foreigners, and will be assured of the most complete protection of person and property in accordance with the standards of international law.

By way of special exemption, it is provided as in the treaty with European states, that Americans with regard to matters of personal status shall be subject only to American courts.

American companies also will be given the right to engage in business in Turkey. The treaty provides complete liberty of commerce and navigation and accords the most favored nation treatment with regard to the prohibition restrictions and conditions of every kind on imports and exports duties and excise taxes.

Commercial Relations.
The provision concerning the amount and the collection of duties on exports and imports is said to be of particular interest to American commerce, as it accords the most favored nation treatment unconditionally, regardless of whether special favors and facilities are granted by either country gratuitously or in return for reciprocal compensatory treatment.

American vessels and airplanes of commerce or war will have freedom of navigation in the Dardanelles, the sea of Marmara and the Bosporus in accordance with the stipulations of the Straits Convention, though the United States assumes no responsibility respecting the application of this convention.

The final difficulty over claims of Americans for damage to property will eventually be settled by agreement. In order to keep the question outside the treaty, instead, a compact is entered into whereby the two governments mutually undertake to resume negotiations as soon as possible after a period of 20 days, each government reserving its rights.

Imet Pasha said when all was over: "At last it is finished. Tomorrow I start for Ankara. I have tried to be just and reasonable. Europe and the United States will find that Turkey will live up to her engagements and will seek to be a worthy member of the concert of nations."

WEEKS URGES COOLIDGE TO DELEGATE MUCH ROUTINE WORK TO COMPETENT AIDS

Advices Him to Take First Step Toward Lightening Burden of Presidency, Giving Time for Important Matters

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
WASHINGTON, Aug. 7.—Secretary Weeks recommended to President Coolidge yesterday that he drop much of the routine work of the White House heretofore transacted by the executive and leave it to competent assistants.

It is the Secretary's opinion that a contributing cause of President Harding's death was his weakened condition due to overwork, and he is desirous that Mr. Coolidge take the initial step himself toward lightening the President's load.

Weeks' suggestion followed reiterated here by Senator Cummins of his statement in Chicago Sunday that the tenure of the President of the United States should be limited to one term, and a statement by one of Mr. Harding's close friends that the late President had been overworked and was in an uncertain state of health when he left Washington. For that reason, according to this friend, Secretary Christian urged that the proposed Alaskan trip be abandoned.

Secretary Weeks believes a mass of detail work shifts into the President's desk which it is not his business to see and of which he should not even know. The President, in his opinion, should devote his time to disposing of major problems, determining policies and meeting important conferees.

There was increased discussion among high officials yesterday of the movement started several years ago in Congress to create an office known as Assistant to the President. This office was provided for in the Walter F. Brown reorganization report, which will soon be laid before President Coolidge. It was said by one of the late President's advisors that the President should have a man of cabinet calibre as his secretary in order that the executive might transfer to him all tasks which he could not with justice to himself accomplish.

President Coolidge has authorized Mrs. V. B. Fugh, a clerk in the General Land Office, to sign his name to land grants. She is the only person having authority to sign the President's name to official documents.

WEEKS TO ASK FOR $1,500,000 TO IMPROVE CANAL DEFENSES

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Aug. 7.—An appropriation of $1,500,000 for improving the fortifications of the Panama Canal will be requested when the War Department estimates for the next fiscal year are submitted to the Budget Bureau, it was said today after Secretary Weeks had gone over the estimates with his budget officer.

Weeks said the total appropriation requested for the military establishment would run about $3,000,000, or $4,000,000 more than the present one, which aggregates $226,000,000. Under the plans as outlined there will be no request for increasing the present authorized army strength of 125,000 enlisted men, nor for additional funds for the aircraft program.

MEMORIAL ON THE LEVIATHAN

By the Associated Press.

SOUTHAMPTON, Aug. 7.—The Leviathan was like a great funeral ship, when she sailed for New York this morning, with more than 400 passengers, many of whom are prominent American officials and business men who cut short their European trips because of the death of President Harding.

The late President's portrait, which was unveiled by James J. Davis, Secretary of Labor, on the liner's first trip across last month, was draped with mourning. At the funeral hour Friday memorial services will be held on board, with passengers of all classes and as many of the ship's company as possible participating. Secretary Davis, as the highest Government official aboard, will make a short address.

VICE-PRESIDENTS PROMOTED BY FATE IN PAST HAVE HAD STORMY POLITICAL CAREERS

Tyler, Fillmore and Johnson Wrecked Their Partisan Fortunes, Arthur Served Creditably, Roosevelt Alone Re-Elected.

Calvin Coolidge is the sixth President who has succeeded to that office from the office of Vice President. A peculiar fact is that in each of the five previous cases, the President's death occurred early in his term of office, leaving his successor the greater part of a four-year period to serve. The term for which President Harding was elected is more than half ended, so it is only about 10 months until the presidential nominating conventions—a very short time for a new President to establish a basis for continuance in office. He has 19 months of the term to serve.

John Tyler was the first man whom fate promoted from the secondary office to the presidency. He succeeded upon the death of William Henry Harrison, just one month after the inauguration of President Harrison in 1841. He wrecked his own political fortunes, and disrupted the Whig party, which had elected him. He secretly negotiated a treaty for the annexation of Texas, which was unpopular at the North and was rejected by the Senate. After the resignation of Daniel Webster from the Cabinet, the leaders of the Whig party issued a manifesto repudiating Tyler.

Fillmore and Johnson. Millard Fillmore became President upon the death of Zachary Taylor in July, 1850, 16 months after Gen. Taylor's inauguration. Like Tyler, he was elected by the Whigs, and, like him, he alienated his party, particularly by his approval of the compromise measures of 1850 which included the fugitive slave law. However, he sought the Whig nomination for the presidency in 1852 and was defeated by Gen. Winfield Scott, whose subsequent defeat marked the passing of the Whig party.

Andrew Johnson, succeeding Abraham Lincoln, after the assassination at Ford's Theater in April, 1865, served all but a few weeks of the second term for which Lincoln had been elected. Upon taking oath of office, he made a speech in which he was deemed to dwell unduly upon his own rise from humble circumstances. "The duties have been mine, the results have been in God's hands," he said of his own career. This and the absence of any adequate tribute to his predecessor, caused the comment that Johnson was willing to share the credit of his own achievements with his Creator, but seemed unaware that Lincoln had saved the Union.

Johnson soon broke with the leaders of the Republican party in Congress, and his attitude encouraged the Southern States to reject the first reconstruction proposals of Congress, which included only civil rights for the negroes, and not negro suffrage. After this, the Republican leaders in Congress, Charles Sumner, Ben Wade and Thaddeus Stevens, took matters into their own hands, virtually eliminating Johnson as a factor in legislation, and put through a complete and, as it was then termed, radical reconstruction program. An attempt to remove the President by impeachment proceedings failed by the Republican convention of 1868, and was a candidate for the Democratic nomination. In 1875, he was elected to the Senate from Tennessee as a Democrat, his death following soon afterward.

Arthur Thwarted by Blaine. Chester A. Arthur represented the "staiwart" faction in the Republican party when he was nominated for Vice President in 1880 on the Republican ticket headed by James A. Garfield. Gen. Garfield was of one opposite, or "half-breed" faction, and factional hostilities, suspended during the campaign, broke out early in Garfield's term. The President was shot by a disappointed office-seeker who called himself a "staiwart," July 2, 1881, and died Sept. 19.

Arthur, who had been an active fighter in the warfare within the party, sought after becoming President to reconcile differences. In this he succeeded beyond the general expectation, and his record in office was considered creditable. James G. Blaine was then the dominant figure of the Republican party, and thought President Arthur was willing to share the credit of his own nomination in 1884, he was unable to prevail against the magnetism of Blaine.

Roosevelt's Accession. Theodore Roosevelt succeeded to the presidency after the assassination of William McKinley, taking the oath Sept. 14, 1901. A little more than five months after the beginning of the second McKinley term, he announced that he intended to carry on President McKinley's policies, and he kept in working relations, at most times, with the McKinley group of politicians, including Mark Hanna.

He was the first, and thus far the only, president succeeding from the vice-presidency to be elected later to a presidential term of his own. He was nominated at Chicago without opposition in 1904, and in the following year began what he described as his own term, in distinction from his predecessor's term, which he had served out. He dictated the choice of William H. Taft as his successor in the 1908 convention. His break with Taft and his candidacy in the momentous election of 1912, when Woodrow Wilson was first chosen as president, are familiar matters of recent history.

SENATORIAL BIG FACTOR. The power of senatorial seniority is deemed greater in such a case than the balance of strength as controlled by LaFollette. He himself, as chairman of the committee on manufactures and as ranking member of the committee on finance is a beneficiary of this ancient custom and owes much of his prestige to it.

By this rule of seniority Cummins is entitled to preside over the Senate if he wishes to do so, and it is evident today that he does. In as much as another can be made President pro tempore, Cummins can have all the time he wants to work on the transportation problem or can dictate the steps to be taken. Neither Curtis nor Moses can be politically offended if Cummins remains at the head. Through him the President will have a strong organization—as strong as can be made under the circumstances, and can exercise a greater influence on the Senate as issues come forward.

RUHR INDUSTRIALS TO COMBAT DECREE OF CONFISCATION

Leaders in Unoccupied Areas Plan to Provide Jobs for Those Who Refuse to Work Under French.

DEGOUTTE'S THREAT HELD TO BE HARD BLOW

'Not Humiliating Enough to Force Us to Capitulate,' Sorge's Answer—Marks at 2,000,000 for $1.

Special Cable to the Post-Dispatch and the New York World.

BERLIN, Aug. 7.—In a series of lengthy conferences during the last 48 hours, the Ruhr industrialists have decided to let the Ruhr go to pieces rather than capitulate in the face of Gen. Degoutte's threat to confiscate factories there.

The industrialists of unoccupied Germany have promised every available support, if necessary, to provide work for all Ruhr miners and factory hands who will refuse to work under French administration.

The manufacturers and mine owners here admit the confiscatory measure is the sharpest weapon yet used against them in the Ruhr conflict. They consider it the climax, however, and are convinced it will fail. They insist the workers will refuse to dig coal or operate the coke and blast furnaces under French bayonets.

These men will be paid to stay at home. It also is planned to transfer hundreds of thousands of them to other industrial regions in unoccupied Germany, if it is found necessary. This would force the French to bring in their own labor. The Germans doubt the ability of the occupying authorities to operate the mines and furnaces effectively. Furthermore, the present supply of coal and coke is nearly exhausted, and it is asserted here the French will soon find it impossible to ship a single ton to France.

Worst Capitulate, Sorge Says. Kurt Sorge, president of the German Industrial League, and a director of Krupp's Berlin concern, told the correspondent today:

"Gen. Degoutte's decree is unquestionably the most terrific blow we have yet received, but it is not humiliating enough to force us to capitulate. Our chief problem is still to put enough money in circulation to finance the workers. "To prevent confiscation of paper marks by the French, the Ruhr will issue large amounts of local currency, which the French must throw on foreign bourses and thus cause the mark to tumble further. We are ready for the worst and will resist to the bitter end."

2,000,000 Marks for $1. The enormous demand for foreign money as a result of the Reichsbank's action in lifting all restrictions on foreign exchange sent the paper mark down to less than 2,000,000 to the dollar late yesterday.

The new 100 per cent depreciation was immediately reflected in food stores. Depressed housewives with stocks of paper marks stood in line for hours waiting their turn to be served, and while they waited prices soared. Thousands of them were finally forced to go home empty handed as their husbands' wages had not reached the new levels at which a pound of butter costs 500,000 marks.

TOKIO, Aug. 7.—The Japanese reply to the British reparations note forwarded to London declares: "The Imperial Government wishes for a satisfactory settlement of the reparations question, especially in its bearing on the question of European security for world peace and approves generally the method of settlement proposed in the British note. This Government notes the existence of some difference between the position taken by the British Government and the attitude of France and Belgium toward reparations, and hopes that the countries whose vital interests are involved in settlement of the question will approach it with the greater spirit of co-operation which has marked their attitude toward all important questions in the past."

CUMMINS LIKELY TO BE PRESIDENT OF SENATE

After Conference With Coolidge, Iowa Senator Changes Mind—Seniority on His Side.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 7.—Well-founded gossip, following the visit with President Coolidge yesterday of President pro tempore Cummins of the Senate, avers that Mr. Coolidge has spoken sufficiently to clear the snags from one difficult situation confronting his administration and involving party harmony.

Following his short talk with the President, Senator Cummins was of a different frame of mind than last June, when it became known that he was planning to relinquish the office of presiding officer of the Senate, that he might devote his whole time to the transportation problem. He himself said diplomatically that he had not given the matter definite consideration, it was learned reliably that he is all but ready to stand for election as president of the Senate, the title he would have as presiding officer in the future. Incidentally, Cummins is a mild reservationist on the League of Nations and a pro-world court man.

Two Possibilities for Post. Two names have been outstanding in the last few days for the place vacated by Mr. Coolidge. One is that of Senator Curtis of Kansas, the Senate whip; the other Senator Moses of New Hampshire, chairman of the Republican Senatorial Campaign Committee. Both are regulars and would have strong followings if they entered the contest.

Senator LaFollette would have to choose between one or the other, unless a dark horse were entered, and the one chosen out of such a contest would be susceptible to the charge from the other side of bearing a LaFollette label. A third man mentioned, but the bitter enemy which LaFollette bore toward him would stand in the way.

Seniority Big Factor. The power of senatorial seniority is deemed greater in such a case than the balance of strength as controlled by LaFollette. He himself, as chairman of the committee on manufactures and as ranking member of the committee on finance is a beneficiary of this ancient custom and owes much of his prestige to it.

By this rule of seniority Cummins is entitled to preside over the Senate if he wishes to do so, and it is evident today that he does. In as much as another can be made President pro tempore, Cummins can have all the time he wants to work on the transportation problem or can dictate the steps to be taken. Neither Curtis nor Moses can be politically offended if Cummins remains at the head. Through him the President will have a strong organization—as strong as can be made under the circumstances, and can exercise a greater influence on the Senate as issues come forward.

MISS REHEARSAL FOR FASHION SHOW HELD

Like Is Problem for Stage Hands — Pageant Opens Tomorrow Night.

Rehearsal on the Queen of Industry's models was still sticky last night and there wasn't any water in the tank, but for all that, the first rehearsal of the annual fashion show, which is to begin tomorrow night at the Municipal Theater in Forest Park seemed indicative of a good show.

The stage hands did most of the rehearsing last night. These persons apparently wear fewer clothes than any other in the present show. The greatest problem of the production was to get his men to put down the sectional floor over the frozen lake on the stage without pinching their fingers.

Directors Busy.
Directors of the affair were busy arranging the light effects, coaching performers and drilling the mass of extras throughout the evening. The show has been divided into a "first" and a small expansion of the "second." At times the ice will be a dance floor. Towers have been erected at either side of the platform upon which spotlights are stationed. More lights, more decorations, more music, more everything, are promised.

Before the first ensemble could be called last night the directors were faced with a number of technical puzzles. The actor designated to make the first appearance in the "Hall of Statuary" scene did not understand what his attitude should be. A coach led him aside.

Queen Enters Barge.
The Queen of Industry, having taken her place in her tall prowling barge with hands ready to draw the rope which is to propel the barge across the canal, there was a sudden dazed silence.

A director rushed up. He gave a look at the stately ship, at the queen and the floor where water will be opening night. After a conference it was agreed that a character would have to be added to act as a guide.

Some of the models wore their show dresses. Each girl did a few practice turns up and down the runway over the orchestra pit.

The ice was too soft for skating. The models were to be in order and the statues had not been made up. Hence the only scene given attention was the first, in which King Louis crowns the Queen of Industry.

The scene inside her trip across the canal without mishap, although the wheels of her boat squeaked a little.

WASHINGTON CORRESPONDENTS APPOINT FUNERAL ESCORT
By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Aug. 7.—The standing committee of Washington newspaper correspondents today designated an escort of honor to accompany the body of the late President Harding from the White House to the Capitol. The escort will include the newspaper men who accompanied the President to Alaska, those who were stationed at Marion during the 1920 campaign, and the reporters who daily cover the White House.

A resolution adopted by the committee said in part:
"No finer contact of genuine understanding and sympathy ever was established between an American President and the newspaper men than that which governed the relations of President Warren G. Harding to the writers of the capital. His personal charm, lovable disposition, coupled with great candor and insight into the integrity of those who dealt with him, inspired deep devotion and a feeling of respect in the hearts of the Washington newspaper correspondents. We mourn in the passing the loss of a real friend, a colleague, whose connection with the profession shed a great dignity and lustre."

"To Mr. Harding, no less gracious in the friendship she entertained and inspired, we offer on behalf of the corps of Washington correspondents our deep sympathy and our consolation that she will find in the affections of the American people which will preserve for all time the memory of the man who inspired her and comforted her throughout the years of his life."

Boys' Golf Club Incorporation.
The Boys' Golf Club, which has 25 members with grounds on Clayton road between the Price and Harrison roads, yesterday applied to the Circuit Court at Clayton for incorporation. MARION EXTENDS SYMPATHY
By the Associated Press.
MARION, O., Aug. 7.—A resolution extending the sympathy of the City of Marion to Mrs. Harding, and widow of the dead President, and other relatives was adopted last night by the Marion city council.

The resolution said the taking of President Harding "at a time when it appears that he was the man preeminently endowed with the qualities of leadership so necessary and required now is like the taking of Lincoln, 'impossible of explanation.'"

"So all that is left to us, is to bow our heads in submission and sorrow, and to give thanks to God for our homage to his memory in an endeavor to emulate his life of gentleness and helpfulness."

BEATIFICATION SERVICE FOR SISTER THERESA

100,000 Kneel in Streets in Honor of Nun Who Is to Be Made a Saint.

Special Cable to the Post-Dispatch and the New York World.
PARIS, Aug. 7.—With all the ceremonial solemnity of the Catholic Church, it was formally proclaimed yesterday at Lisieux that Sister Theresa of the Infant Jesus is now in heaven.

At least 100,000 Catholics crowded into the little Norman city, to smother for even a seventh of their number, and kneel devoutly in the streets in honor of the nun who is to be made a saint.

It was one of the most impressive acts of faith in Europe since the war. It is an indication of the way in which religious indifference here has been converted, either into contemptuous skepticism or into mystic devotion.

Sister Theresa was admitted to the Carmelite convent at Lisieux when she was a beautiful, blond child of 15. She obtained special permission from Pope Leo XIII to enter the convent to join her three sisters who were already there, one being the Mother Superior.

From that time on she lived in rapt preparation for the next world. In 1887, when she was 25, she left behind an autobiography of mystic exaltation. It was published immediately as "The Story of a Soul," and soon became a book of devotion translated into all languages.

Among the faithful, Sister Theresa became an object of prayer. Stories spread that sufferers had had their torments relieved when they called upon her, and the diseased were cured. During the war devotion to "Saint" Theresa, as she was already called, swept through the ranks of Catholic soldiers and sailors, and many of the battlefield were credited to her.

Finally, Rome undertook the process of canonization, of which the present beatification is an intermediate stage. In consideration of duly verified supernatural benefactions experienced by those who have called upon her, Sister Theresa is formally recognized as in heaven, "because of her heroic and venerable virtues."

Bishops, Archbishops and two Cardinals, under the primacy of Cardinal Bourne of England, are pronouncing the beatification. For three successive days the reliquary containing the body of Sister Theresa, exhumed last March, will be exposed for veneration in the three churches of Lisieux.

More Than 6000 Seek Certificates in Illinois.

By the Associated Press.
SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Aug. 7.—With more than 6000 applicants for With more than 6000 applicants for teachers' certificates, A. L. Whittenberg, secretary of the Illinois State Examining Board, prophesies that there will be plenty of teachers for Illinois schools.

In the year ending June 30, 6429 certificates were issued. This is in marked contrast, according to Francis G. Blair, State Superintendent of Public Instruction, to the situation just after the war, when some schools had to be closed because of lack of teachers. Of this number, 2928 were admitted by examination, and 3501 graduates of normal schools and colleges were admitted after the amount of study required by Illinois educational laws.

TO SELL GOULD PLACE ON MANURSING ISLAND

Widow of George J. Gould Plans to Spend Time Abroad With Her Children.

By Leased Wire From the New York Bureau of the Post-Dispatch.
NEW YORK, Aug. 7.—Mrs. Guinevere Sinclair Gould, widow of George J. Gould who died in France last May, told a reporter yesterday she planned to pass a large part of her life abroad and had decided to sell her estate on Manursing Island, near Rio, N. Y., one of the show places of Westchester county.

Mrs. Gould said it was placed on the market two weeks ago and the price asked was in the neighborhood of $500,000. She said she could not bear to rent the place and that as she would use it so little, the best course seemed to be to dispose of it.

George J. Gould, who acknowledged in his will the paternity of his second wife's three children, had given the Manursing Island estate to her before he died. He also owned the magnificent Georgian Court estate at Lakewood, N. J., where he lived with his first wife, Mrs. Edith Kingston Gould. This, also, was to be sold. She said she did not know whether reports that it was to be used as hotel-restaurant of the Westchester-Biltmore type were correct.

Neither would Mrs. Gould comment on reports that the Gould camp in the Catskills and the shooting lodge at High Point, N. C., has been placed in the hands of realty companies for quiet disposal. It was said, however, that this had been done.

"Yes," said Mrs. Gould, "I have decided to sell the estate. It is a beautiful place and I shall miss it. But I plan to spend a great part of my time abroad, and I did not wish to rent it. I shall keep my town house on West Seventy-fourth street and I shall stay there when I am in this country."

Guinevere Sinclair Gould became the wife of George J. Gould on May 1, 1922. They were married secretly near Lakewood, N. J. She is the daughter of a British army officer and was on the stage for a brief period before her marriage.

"I shall never go back to the stage," she said. "I have my work ahead of me in my children."

George Gould, oldest of the three, is 8. Jane is the youngest, a baby of about 2, and Guinevere is the second. The home offered for sale has broad lawns, which stretch down to the sound, and many beautiful shade trees. There are tennis courts and a nine-hole golf link. Word of the sale already had got about and a

PESKY BED BUGS

Bedbugs lay an average of seven eggs per day. Under favorable conditions they hatch in five days of which two-thirds are females. They mature to adult size and are capable of laying in four weeks. How many bedbugs would you have in a year if you left one female or egg unmoistened for one year?

To rid the pesky bedbug, you readily see how necessary it is to use a preparation that will kill the eggs as well as the live ones. F. D. Q. has been demonstrated by the leading hospitals, hotels and railroads that the safest and most economical way to stop future generations of bedbugs, roaches, fleas and ants is to use the new discovery Pesky Devil's Quietest "F. D. Q."

A five package of F. D. Q. makes a quart, enough to kill a million bedbugs, roaches, fleas and cotes and at the same time destroy their eggs.

Impossible for them to exist when F. D. Q. is properly used. Free a patent spot in every package to get the pesky devil in the hard-to-get-at places and save the juice.

F. D. Q. is not an insect powder, no mucus or dust to injure the bedding.

F. D. Q. for family use. Hospital size $2.50 makes five gallons. F. D. Q. can also be purchased in sealed bottles, double strength, liquid form.

Genuine F. D. Q. is never peddled.

NEW LIQUID BRINGS BEAUTIFUL WAVY HAIR

Puts Charming 7-Day Curl in Even the Stubbornest Hair.

A new liquid has been discovered which means an end to bothersome old-fashioned methods of curling and waving the hair.

Just a few drops of this liquid makes the hair fall in soft, fluffy waves and beautiful natural curls—the kind that everyone loves and admires. An application takes but a few moments—yet it gives the stubbornest hair a charming, permanent wave effect which lasts 7 to 10 days, and often longer.

"This new beauty discovery is called Domino Curlette. It is entirely different from anything known before and the results it is bringing are almost marvelous. No need to ruin the hair with hot permanent wave irons. Use the good old-fashioned kid curlers, but before doing so just moisten the hair with a few drops of Domino Curlette. Then watch the results. You will be amazed at the wonderful improvement in your whole appearance."

Get Domino Curlette to-day for just a small price. Money back if you say so. Sold at good druggists and department stores everywhere including Wolff-Wilson, J. & J. Co., Johnson Bros., Enderle Stores, S. H. Kres, and Nugent's Department Stores.

RETAIL COAL PRICES NOT IN INVESTIGATION

Commission Says Committee Must Ascertain Facts Themselves; Cost at Mine Its Only Concern.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Aug. 7.—Cost of retailing coal and profits made by retail dealers can best be explored by municipal and state agencies in the interests of the communities concerned, according to conclusions reached by the Federal coal commission. In a statement yesterday the commission said it had found coal retailing inextricably associated with trucking and storage, and with the retailing of a variety of other commodities. The expense of conducting a national survey was estimated to be $2,000,000.

"There seems to be a lack of information to how far the United States Coal Commission has gone in the anthracite and intends to go in the bituminous industry with reference to the retailing of coal," the statement said.

"To set the matter right, the commission announces that it soon discovered that the case of more than 40,000 retail coal dealers in America, many of whom had their coal business complicated with other articles of merchandise, the appropriation would not permit a presentation relative to the investment, cost, margin and profits of each of these dealers. The commission has done all that it could in the way of sampling in many of the municipalities of the country the retail coal trade, and will present the result of its investigation to the country but it has not gone and cannot go into an investigation of all the retail dealers of America."

"Such an investigation could not be made short of $2,000,000, and when made would not be conclusive as to whether the citizens of a municipality were satisfied to pay the prices charged by the retailer for coal. Therefore the commission has concluded that except as to the general investigation of the subject of the retail trade, will have to be left to the municipalities. The railroad rate is easily ascertainable. "Citizens and municipalities must do some investigating themselves. If they believe that they are paying to the retailer an exorbitant profit, they should supplement the work of the commission by local investigations of the subject."

"It heartily approves all investigations that are being made to ascertain the profits of retailers in individual municipalities, the margin of profits, and any suggestions that can be made for the betterment of the conditions disclosed in the investigation of the subjects."

ILLINOIS TAKES PRECAUTIONS TO PREVENT BONUS FRAUDS

Elaborate System of Checks Devised to Insure Service Men Getting Their Money.

By the Associated Press.
SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Aug. 7.—Elaborate precautions are being taken by the Service Recognition Board to see that every former service man in Illinois gets his bonus money promptly and without the interference of swindlers, Palmer Edmunds, chief clerk of the board, has announced.

Thus far there have been few attempts by unscrupulous persons to get possession of State warrants illegally, he said. The reason is that there is a complex system of checks and balances.

When an application under the bonus amendment is made, it must be subscribed before a Notary, and it requires so much specific information that any one would have difficulty in making out a false report. The application is then checked with the service record of the soldier, which is stored in the archives of the Navy and War Departments in Washington.

Another check is made when a man changes his address. Many soldiers have moved since they sent in their applications. Consequently, a special change of address form has been devised. The mere letter of the applicant announcing such a change is not sufficient. He must swear to his announcement of this change before a Notary as he did his original application. This and the original application are then checked against each other.

PUBLIC LITTLE INTERESTED IN RELIGIOUS FILMS, POPE IS TOLD

Bishops From Various Parts of the World Report to Vatican on People's Attitude.

Correspondence of the Post-Dispatch and New York World.
ROME, July 25.—The Pope some time ago invited Roman Catholic Bishops in various parts of the world to send him reports on the employment of movies pictures for the purpose of spreading the Roman Catholic faith.

These reports, which are now arriving show that the public is little interested in religious films. The only ones that appear to attract them are those of great ceremonies at St. Peter's or the Vatican.

The moving picture firms, it is stated, want to take more of them, and also pictures of the Pope and his Cardinals, and they offer considerable sums for the privilege.

His Holiness has referred the matter to a committee of Cardinals.

Injuries Fatal to Wellston Man.
Special to the Post-Dispatch.
URBANA, Ill., Aug. 7.—James Newman of Wellston, Mo., died yesterday of injuries received when a tractor engine fell through a bridge and into a creek near Bondville several days ago.

Sarre Commission Member Resigns.
By the Associated Press.
GENEVA, Aug. 7.—The only British member of the governing commission of the Sarre Valley, Richard L. Waugh of Winnipeg, has resigned, to accept a Government office in his home province of Manitoba, it is announced here.

Waugh has written, tendering his resignation, after having accepted the post of chairman of the Manitoba Government Liquor Commission, created as a result of the recent vote for the resumption of liquor sales in that province.

PLANS FOR MEMORIAL IN WESTMINSTER ABBEY

King George Will Be Represented at Service for Mr. Harding Friday Noon.

Special Cable to the Post-Dispatch and New York World.

LONDON, Aug. 7.—Westminster Abbey will be the scene of an official American memorial service for the late President Harding Friday noon, the American embassy announces. Bishop Ryle, dean of the Abbey, offered its use to the United States Government, through Post Wheeler, American Charge d'Affaires. The embassy is now arranging details.

King George will be represented at the service. Among those who will attend, in addition to members of the American embassy and consulate general, probably will be all members of the British Cabinet, leaders of all political parties, officials from all foreign embassies and legations, representatives of the Pilgrim Society, the American Society of London, the English Speaking Union, prominent persons in American business and social colonies here and leaders in all walks of British life.

Canon Carnegie, sub-dean of the Abbey, probably will officiate. His wife was an American, the daughter of Judge Endicott, and the widow of the late Joseph Chamberlain.

The service in this historic setting will be impressive. It tentatively is arranged that the service shall consist of the opening sentences of the Anglican burial service to Dr. Croft's beautiful music, a psalm, probably the ninetieth, a lesson, hymns and prayers. Possibly the cantation of the faithful departed also will be rendered.

CHILDREN OF JACOB CONRAD SUE TO EJECT STEPMOTHER

Assert He Had Only Life Interest in Real Estate He Conveyed to Her.

A suit to eject Mrs. Anne Conrad from possession, say 2847 North Grand boulevard was submitted today to Circuit Judge Mix. Title to the property was conveyed to her by her husband, the late Jacob Conrad, several months after he was married to him in 1919. But the plaintiffs, who are four children of Conrad by a previous marriage, assert that the property belonged to their mother, who died in 1902, and that their father had only a life interest in it.

The first Mrs. Conrad, in her will, bequeathed the realty to her husband. She failed to mention her children and because of such failure it is contended the will is void as to them. The present Mrs. Conrad asserts she agreed to marry Conrad on condition that he transfer title of the realty to her. She contends that the plaintiffs should have made objection before her husband died so he could have provided for her by giving her other property.

The plaintiffs are Viola, Norman and Walter Conrad and Hertha C. Lake. Jane G. Nigerman, a granddaughter, is named as a co-plaintiff. Conrad died last November.

EXPRESS MESSENGER BOUND

Four Robbers Loot Safe on Big Four Train Near Peoria.

PEORIA, Ill., Aug. 7.—Four men last night bound, gagged and knocked unconscious the express messenger of the Big Four train, which left Peoria at 8:30 o'clock, and robbed the safe of five sealed packages and railroad receipts which were destined for Indianapolis.

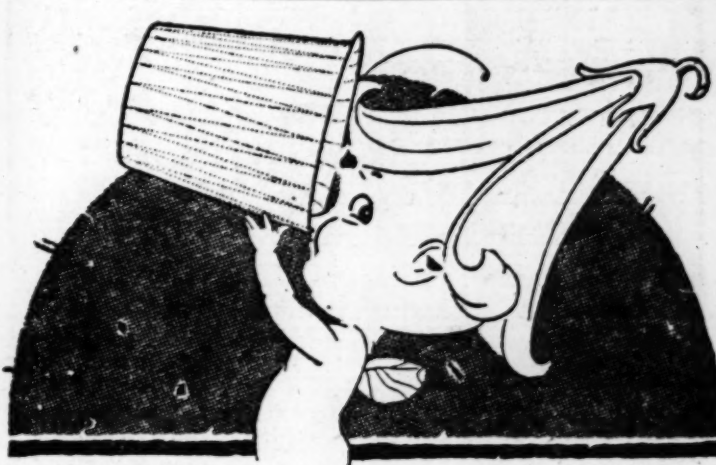

Two men are believed to have jumped into the car as it left the Union Station in Peoria. Two more are believed to have got on before the train gained much speed. The messenger was alone on the car. The robbery was not discovered until the unconscious man was taken off at Pekin. Until there is a checkup officials can not estimate the loss.

Girl, 14, Missing From Home

Catherine Wagner, 14 years old, has been missing from her home, 1609 Leffingwell avenue, since last Friday morning. On that day she and her mother, Mrs. M. Wagner, were walking to the Caradine Harveast Hat Co. plant, where they are employed, when, at Leffingwell and Franklin avenues, Mrs. Wagner became ill and returned home. Her daughter did not reach her place of employment. She was attired in a pink dress, black and red shoes and red stockings. She has brown bobbed hair and brown eyes.

Accused of Leaving Accident Scene

Coase Sanchez, 26 years old, of Granite City, Ill., a Mexican, yesterday was arrested in Granite City and brought to St. Louis, charged with leaving the scene of an accident here Sunday. When Clarence Rowland, 11, of 212 Convent street, was knocked down by an automobile, which failed to stop, in the 1200 block on South Broadway Sunday, suffering minor injuries, witnesses furnished police with the license number of the automobile and Sanchez thus was found.

American Players Lose in England, but Defeat Same Opponents in U. S.

By Lawrence Perry.

NEW YORK, Aug. 7.—Until Mrs. Elizabeth Whitman Hotchkiss, captain of the American women's tennis team, which will meet the British women stars at the new West Side Tennis Club stadium on Saturday and Monday, arrives in this city the complete details of the international affairs will not be arranged.

Two present certainties are that the English women will be glad to practice themselves of the extra day of practice allowed by the postponement of play from Friday to Saturday, and that Molla Mallory, Helen Wills and Eleanor Goss will be our main representatives.

Some very interesting things will be worked out in this match between the greatest women players of England and the United States. Primarily, if the British players go down to defeat as they did at Sea-bright we shall have new light upon the question of acclimation. This has been a moot topic of conversation ever since Mrs. Mallory was so signally defeated by Mlle. Lenglen in France and at Wimbledon three years ago and a year later took revenge upon the French girl at Forest Hills.

Loss in U. S.

At least two of the British women, Mrs. McKane and Mrs. Beamish, have demonstrated more than once their ability to defeat our champion in overseas matches, and yet they come here and fall before the prowess of the American women. Reservations in the matter of accepting last week's games as a thorough test of the ability of the international team relate to the fact that the invaders stepped almost directly from the deck of the ocean liner to the courts. And that was asking a great deal of them.

Now, however, with the passing of more than a week since our visitors completed their transatlantic voyage we may certainly expect them to show their true ability. It is the theory of physical fitters with whom the writer has talked that a month at least is required for the orientation of athletes in foreign climates. This being so, a victory by the British women in the team match, five singles and two doubles, that begin the end of the week would be extremely significant as indicating their superiority over the Americans.

Johnson Released.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Aug. 7.—Arthur Johnson, a member of the family of the famous boxer, has been released by the Pittsburgh club to the ownership of the New York-Pennsylvania League. He was picked up by the Pittsburgh club as a free agent last year he was in the Eastern Canadian League for a time.

Boxing Business as Usual.

TUESDAY night, at the self-same park wherein the Firpo-Cowler match was to have been fought, there is scheduled a boxing show promoted by negroes. Inquiries at the office of the chief of Police developed that no interference was contemplated.

Phil Brockman, president of the Board of Police Commissioners, also informed a Post-Dispatch reporter that no act to stop the exhibition was being considered. From which it appears that the descent of Gov. Hyde upon the local clubs was aimed at a fight and not at the fight (GAME).

It is also reasonable to infer that the promoters here, if they wish to run the risk of having their bouts stopped at any time on the whim of an official, may go forward on the "business as usual" basis.

In the case of the Firpo fight, the gubernatorial "whim" cost the local boxing promoters $2000 to find out that what is legal on one day is illegal the next, under the self-same law.

Time for a Showdown.

WITH a city ordinance protecting boxing and a State law making it anything from a misdemeanor to a felony, promoters now on the anxious seat and disgruntled fans would like a showdown.

Either the game should be permitted to go forward under the city commission rules or it should be barred under the State law. As a matter of fact, there is little chance for the city commission to supersede the State statute. Furthermore, the Police Department, controlled by the State, can be rendered neutral only at the will of the Governor.

It is probable that if the city ordinance were put to a legal test it would be found wanting—lawyers think so, most of them—at least.

The way out is plain—pass a State law permitting boxing. Until that time there will be little good coming out of the game here. That there should be such a law the experience of 18 states that now tolerate boxing under commission government seems to prove.

Missouri should not be on the outside looking in.

Lucky Mr. Firpo.

FIRPO, like Rip Van Winkle, was a lucky man. That's the burden of the song heard around St. Louis.

It is the prevailing opinion of those who saw Tom Cowler and Firpo here that Cowler had a wonderful chance to blast the career of the Wild Bull of the Pampas.

Cowler, trained down to his real fighting weight of 214 pounds, appeared every inch an athlete. He looked bigger and stronger than his rival, it was said, and was in condition such as he had not enjoyed in years.

Cowler, a better boxer than Firpo, can hit hard, too. He dropped Fred Fulton here and really had him out. He is said to have stopped Homer Smith in a few seconds—the same Smith that stayed 10 rounds with Firpo at Omaha.

Even the promoters of "the show," after inspecting both men and seeing Cowler stripped for action, felt that the stopping of the fight prevented an abrupt change in the fortunes of the Argentine.

Mr. Rickard and Senator Firpo surely owe Gov. Hyde a debt of gratitude—and then some.

Setups Remain.

JOE DOWNEY, who fights Firpo at Indianapolis tomorrow, is a member of the fighting Downey family of Columbus, O. He is a brother of Anthony Downey who recently appeared here, and Bryan Downey, who caused a sensation by stopping John Wilson, middleweight champion, at Cleveland two years ago.

Joe is no wonder. In fact he had about given up his attempt to follow in the footsteps of his brother. He is big and husky, but is considered a big dud.

Firpo's only other barnstorming opponent is to be Charley Weinert, a once good fighter, whose constitution has been wrecked.

Firpo will probably make his way safe through the barnstorming woods to the Dempsey fight—but we still believe he owes thanks for the calling off of the Cowler bout. Firpo showed that he lacks too much to be certain of avoiding a dangerous puncher like Cowler.

Firpo Knows No Infighting.

DEMPEY is the greatest infighter among the heavyweights, with the possible exception of Harry Wills. Firpo is the worst.

In the two fights that I have seen he has shown himself a total stranger to the gentle art of macciating the enemy's short ribs.

Although he was in a constant clinch with Homer Smith, due to Smith's safety first tactics, not once during the fight did he attempt to punch his foe by fighting him in close. As I recall it, he did not strike a single blow while in a clinch. The so-called "rabbit punches" referred to in some stories were right-hand swings that went around the enemy's neck.

If for no other reason than his ignorance of this feature of the game, Firpo seems to be just a lamb sent to the slaughter.

U. S. Davis Cup Doubles Team Is Still a Problem

Johnston-Griffin and Williams-Washburn Teams Best Thus Far Showing of Veterans.

By Walter Camp.

NEW YORK, Aug. 7.—It is getting very near the time when we must decide what doubles pair America is going to depend on to defend the Davis cup. Certainly, however, we are not near a solution of that difficult tennis problem than we were a month ago.

Just as people were beginning to believe that the two Kinsey brothers were quite unbeatable, along came that pair of veteran campaigners, Norris Williams and Washburn, and took the measure of the Californians without much difficulty. And let it be said right here that the result of that match was not due to the Kinseys being off their game, but because Williams and Washburn were too good for them.

Then Bill Johnston and Peck Griffin, another old time pair, did up Williams and Washburn and there matters rest, with Bill Tilden and the youthful Sandy Wier scheduled to make an effort.

Williams, in Mood, Is a Terror. Norris Williams might well be rechristened "Wayward" Williams. Recently he struck one of his wonderful streaks of play against which has been called the "Williams" effect. He has been so good that his victims simply stood against as they saw balls flashing off Williams' racket in every direction except where they could reach them.

Truly this black-haired demon is the terror of the courts when one of these moods is upon him. No one ever when he happens to back at the gate has a right to feel defrauded. No one tennis player can run such a gamut in a season, but he always gives the stands a sensation.

At his best, he holds the spectators breathless not only by his execution but by his daring and that imagination which pictures some extreme shot as possible and then makes it a reality.

At his worst, even the varied duh in the stands lurches to get hold of Williams' racket and show him how to use it.

President Indifferent to Sports.

There will be no "tennis cabinet" or presidential golf foursomes in Washington, under the new regime. Amherst men remember that when President Coolidge was in college and was asked about his attitude toward athletics, he replied: "I want to educate my head not my legs."

AUSTRALIA AND JAPAN TO PLAY THIS WEEK.

By the Associated Press. CHICAGO, Aug. 7.—Matches between tennis teams representing Australia and Japan in the finals of the American Zone Davis Cup series, will be played here Thursday, Saturday and Sunday, following word from Julian S. Myrick of New York, chairman of the United States Davis Cup Committee. Two singles matches will comprise the program on Thursday. The winners of the matches here will play against France at Brookline, Mass., in the final for the cup on Aug. 16, 17 and 18.

Wear Black Tie for Harding.

Special to the Post-Dispatch. (Copyright, 1923.) LONDON, Aug. 7.—The regatta now being held off the Isle of Wight will go down in history as "the Black Tie Regatta" because of President Harding's death. The British court is at Cowes, and King George has ordered mourning for eight days for the dead President. As a result, yachtsmen have made a run on the local shops to get some hued crests to replace the brilliant club ties usually worn.

Rowing men are now discussing fiercely whether or not the new lunary in the sculling world, Ed McGuire, the Buffalo policeman, has a chance to shine against Walter Hoover. The strapping oarsman defeated both Belyea and Paul Costello so easily in the Baltimore regatta that many believe he has it in him to take the measure of the one-time winner of the Diamond Sculls.

GRAYSON TO REPRESENT NEW YORK IN NET EVENT

Special to the Post-Dispatch. NEW YORK, Aug. 7.—Stuart Grayson Jr. will represent New York in both the singles and doubles of the national boys' lawn tennis championship at Boston, Aug. 20. He gained this right by defeating two opponents at the West Side Tennis Club at Forest Hills.

After defeating Ogden Phillips of Brooklyn, L. I., in the singles, 3-2, 6-4, 6-1, Grayson, with the defeated finalist as his partner, scored an easy straight set victory over Howard Kniffen and Compton Reed, 6-2, 6-1.

William Einsmann, national boys' indoor titleholder three years ago and Robert Raymond of Manual Training High School, won the junior doubles final, defeating Everett Smith and Gail Borden of the Maldenstone Club, 6-4, 6-1, 4-6, 6-2.

ROCKNE TEACHING CLASS OF 70 ART OF COACHING

Special to the Post-Dispatch. NOTRE DAME, Ind., Aug. 7.—The first Notre Dame school of football instructions opened recently with 70 of the 100 registrants present under the supervision of Knute K. Rockne, coach of the Irish team. The registration is limited to 100 and has been completely filled, the remainder of the student coaches being expected to arrive before Sunday.

A number of nationally known coaches are taking instructions here, including rank bridge, former Harvard star, who is now coaching the championship Baylor University team at Waco, Tex.; W. H. (Bud) Saunders, Missouri star, who has handled the teams at Grinnell, Rolla, Haskell and Knox and who has signed a contract to coach at Clemson College; S. C. M. L. Eby of Coe College, Cedar Rapids, Ia., and W. P. Shadoan, former enter College star. Bo McMillan, all American quarterback back at enter College, has registered and is expected to arrive Saturday.

CHAMPION JACK DEMPSEY ATTENDS SARATOGA RACES

By the Associated Press. WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS, SARATOGA LAKE, N. Y., Aug. 7.—The lure of the horse races drew Jack Dempsey, world's heavyweight champion, to Saratoga Springs yesterday afternoon from his chambers here, where he is soon to begin training for his Sept. 14 bout with Luis Angel Firpo.

The champion took a short country run in the morning. Workmen soon will begin building the new training ring, sparring partners are expected late this week and probably by next Monday the champion will begin his daily grind of actual training.

GAINS RECORDED IN LIGHT TRADE ON STOCK MARKET

Railroad Shares Act Better—Small Advances in Bond
List—Exchange Market
Irregular With French Rates Lower.

By Leased Wire From the New York
Bureau of the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, Aug. 7.—The Evening Post, in its copyrighted financial review today, says:

"Firmness continued to be the key note of the market today, trading remaining quiet but the more optimistic mood which made its appearance on yesterday being maintained. The turnover in stocks failed to reach the half-million share mark, but the level of prices was slightly higher from the start and fractional gains predominated at the finish. Rails were better, strength in Erie issues acting as an offset for the weakness in St. Paul. Bonds again made a small advance and the rate on call money remained at 4 1/2 per cent throughout.

Exchange Market Irregular.
With the news from abroad still of a moderately reassuring character, the foreign exchange was quiet and irregular. Cables from London reported that German opinion is rather uniform in doubting that a general collapse is imminent, but the market nevertheless sank to a fresh low of 25 cents a million. This decline must be attributed, however, to current realization of the extreme pace which inflation in Germany is now following and to the probability of the mark declining to a quite insignificant value. French francs meanwhile continued to react, losing 3 1/2 points at 75 1/2 cents, and Belgian francs and Italian lire moved in a similar manner. Sterling lost half a cent at 45 1/2 cents, presentation of a few cotton bills being reported. Most of the former neutrals, on the other hand, were moderately higher."

"Continuation of the hot, dry weather in the Southwest kept the cotton market firm. Futures reports of rain at one time caused liquidation and a 40 point break but when these reports proved to be untrue the market recovered all the loss and achieved fresh advances in addition. As a result the October futures was able to show a net gain of 3 1/2 points on the day at a late price of 12 1/2 cents."

"Wheat prices held firm within a narrow range, the trade awaiting publication of the Government's crop estimate, which was due after the close of trading. Expectations were for an estimate of about 1,150,000 bushels and September closed 3 1/2 of a cent higher at 97 1/4 cents."

Publication of Bradstreet's index of wholesale commodity prices of August 1 shows that the general level, as measured by this index declined 2 per cent during July. This makes the fourth successive month during which the Bradstreet index has declined by approximately this amount and brings the level down to 93 per cent above the average during 1913 as compared with 11 per cent above on April 1. The decline of the past month have been fairly general, the only groups which advanced being those including live stock and miscellaneous commodities. Nevertheless, these movements of this index, which is heavily weighted with raw materials, are now a commentary on something that is past. With the fall season coming on a firming up is not unlikely."

News and Comment
SPECIAL DAILY

Special Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, Aug. 7.—Recovery in the stock exchange was well sustained to the close. The market closed strong at the best of the day.

The market was not upset by the unwinding of weak points in the afternoon. There was some selling in one or two of the values. Phillips Petroleum made a new low under 21, and Skelly 24. St. Paul common was sold down again for a time, and there was some selling of the market. But the general list held. The recovery which had been checked late yesterday resumed. Erie news and Reading showed strength in Willys Overland. The general list was held by the figures for the week ending June 30. In the case of the market, the recovery was not as strong as it had been in the second three months of the year.

On the other, some light on the weak points in the leather market appeared in the latest report of the American Hide and Leather. The report of the first quarter showed a deficit after taxes of $118,175. The deficit for the second quarter, issued last week, was $189,134. There was a little feature to the report of the last two hours. Trading was quiet and the leather market was not as strong as it had been. The recovery was not as strong as it had been in the second three months of the year.

LEAGUE FINDS GUARANTEE
TREATIES PROVE A SNAG

PARIS, Aug. 7.—How to make guarantee treaties between two or more nations harmonize with the proposed general pact for mutual assistance which will be suggested to the members of the League of Nations in an effort to bring about reduction of armaments, is giving trouble to the temporary committee of the League of Nations sitting here.

CORONA Serves All-It is Now Offered FREE to All!

The Coronatyped message is a mark of distinctive intelligence. Recognition of Corona's worth has raised it, in an incredibly short time, from the position of a skeptically considered experiment to leadership in an important branch of the typewriter industry.

Corona is the only typewriter that is so simple to use that it can be operated by anyone. It is the only typewriter that is so durable that it will last for years. It is the only typewriter that is so reliable that it will never break down. It is the only typewriter that is so easy to clean that it will never get dirty. It is the only typewriter that is so quiet that it will never make a sound. It is the only typewriter that is so fast that it will never be slow. It is the only typewriter that is so accurate that it will never make a mistake. It is the only typewriter that is so perfect that it will never be improved.

Dr. A. Reed's Cushion Sole Shoes

Hygienic Footwear for Women

Corns or callous spots on the feet are invariably caused by the irritation of badly fitting shoes. To effect a permanent cure, wear the IMPROVED CUSHION SOLE SHOE.

This is not the original Dr. A. Reed Cushion Shoe previously patented, but DR. A. REED'S new improved Cushion Sole.

Memorial Services in Granite City.
 Memorial services for the late President Harding will be held Thursday at 7:30 p. m. in front of the Elks' Club in Granite City under the auspices of the Elks' Lodge and the American Legion post of that city. There will be a concert by the United States Naval Reserves Band of St. Louis, singing and an address by Postmaster J. J. Faulkner of East St. Louis. Coincident with the funeral Friday afternoon, the Ministerial Alliance of Granite City will hold a service in Memorial Park.

GIRLS! MAKE UP THIS LEMON CREAM

Lemons Beautify and Whiten Skin; bleach Tan, Freckles

Mix the juice of two lemons with three ounces of Orchard White, which any druggist will supply for a few cents, shake well in a bottle, and you have a whole quart of the most wonderful skin softener and complexion beautifier. Massage this sweetly fragrant lemon cream into the face, neck, arms and hands, then shortly note the youthful beauty, softness and whiteness of your skin.

Famous stage beauties use this harmless lemon cream to bring that velvety, clear, rosy-white complexion, also as a freckle, sunburn and tan bleach because it doesn't irritate.

How a travel inquiry Saved $48.64

A business man planned a trip. His family was to accompany him, and a side trip was contemplated at an estimated additional cost of about $50.00.

Before completing arrangements he visited the Union Pacific TRAFFIC OFFICE

2053 Railway Exchange Building
611 OLIVE STREET
Phones: Bell, Olive 1304-1305
Kinloch, Central 2841

The Union Pacific representative went over the itinerary then suggested a slight change in the routing. Result—the side trip included without extra cost and a saving of $48.64.

This office is equipped to give satisfactory and often money-saving answers to all traffic questions, both passenger and freight.

Some unfinished work President Coolidge had to leave on his father's farm in Vermont. In the late afternoon just before the sad news of President Harding's death reached him he chiseled away the dry rot from an old tree in the yard preparatory to filling it with cement. Mrs. Coolidge raked up the debris for him. Before he got around to the cement work, he had become President and had to hurry to Washington with his task uncompleted.

DUTIES OF A FRIEND

By WINIFRED BLACK

"I take his part when he is wrong,
I see him through unto the end,
I listen when he sings his song,
And never find his tale too long,
Because he is my friend."

I HEARD a man make a speech the other day, and he quoted the little verse and said he thought it expressed one of the finest sentiments in the world.

And everybody applauded, and some smiled and some sighed, and some even shed a sentimental tear or so.

But I didn't sigh, and I didn't cry, and I didn't smile, and I didn't applaud.

What I wanted to do was to rise and tell him that he was wrong, all wrong, from the beginning to the end, all through and up and down the middle.

Where Friendship Shows.

"I see him through unto the end"—amen to that.

"I listen when he sings his song"—yes, that I do, too, no matter how much he sings off the key.

"And never find his tale too long"—with that, too, I agree.

Bored I might be, tired to death I probably should be, but listen I would—no matter how he stopped and stammered and hesitated and said: "No, it was on Tuesday; no, Wednesday," or "I was wearing my black hat; no, I had changed to the straw"—yes, I'd listen and pretend to be interested—because he was my friend.

But "take his part when he is wrong"—that's where I draw the line, and that's where I want every true friend of mine to draw the line, too!

I don't want anyone to take my part when I am wrong. I want those who really love me to tell me when I'm making a mistake, and if I go right on making it in spite of what they say, I want them to give me a good talking to—and avoid me till I get some sense into my head.

That's the only way I'll ever know when I really am wrong.

Any fool, any flatterer, any sycophant, any time-server, any schemer can take your part when you are wrong.

Anyone who wants to borrow money of you, anyone who wants to be invited to your party, anyone who has something to gain that he ought not to want to gain, can take your part when you are wrong and he knows you're wrong. Yes, even when he knows you know he knows it.

It takes a real friend and a real man and a real woman to tell you that you're wrong and refuse to take your part.

Why should I help my friend in his folly? Why should I drive him further into mistakes? Why should I countenance him at the time of his blunder—nine chances in ten he'll repent of the whole thing, anyhow, and blame me for failing to warn him.

Only Truth Will Help.

I might agree with anything an irresponsible stranger says. What's the use of irritating him? It's easier to be agreeable and insincere. What is he to me or I to him that I should put myself out telling him exactly what I think of him?

But my friend—ah, that's a different matter!

Friendship is something entirely too fine and too rare to mar with insincerity and shallow acquiescence.

Take my part when I'm right, O friend of my heart, even if I'm unpopular and indiscreet and lacking in judgment! Take my part when I am right, even to the very cannon's mouth, if you are really a true friend of mine.

But when I'm wrong, tell me so—stick to it in my presence and out of it—but please like me just a little, anyhow, right or wrong, all the time.

HEROINES OF HISTORY

Significant Incidents in the Lives of Famous Women
By MARK STUYVESANT

BRITANNY, the province in the northwest of France, was always looked upon by the English with envious eyes, and no one looked upon it more hungrily than Edward III when he was King of England.

So, when the Duke of Brittany died, leaving no heir, there was a controversy between his two brothers, Charles, Duke of Blois, and John, Count of Montfort. The French sided with the Duke of Blois, and England immediately took up the cudgels of the younger son, John, Count of Montfort.

John of Montfort was promptly seized by the French Government and thrown into prison. But there was someone with his interests at heart who set about at once to plan and plot and scheme to hold the duchy for the imprisoned Count.

It was his wife—one of the real heroines of the fourteenth century in which she lived—who started the campaign to defend the rights of John of Montfort.

A very romantic scene took place, which is described as one of the romantic episodes of history, when the brave Countess of Montfort sent her aids forth and asked the subjects of her husband to come to her castle at Rennes.

Then the great lady appeared on the balustrade, with her little son encircled by her arm, and passionately pledged with her people to defend the rights of her boy who represented an ancient and noble house. She assured them that the English would aid them, and spoke to them with such convincing sincerity that the Bretons gave a loud cheer as they pledged their swords to the courageous Joan.

Before entering the conflict Joan took care to have her little boy safely conducted to the friendly shores of England, where he would be safe from harm.

Then she returned to Hennebont and waited feverishly for the aid England had promised.

Clad in a suit of armor, with her horse ever ready to carry her into the fray, Joan took command. And it was her fine spirit which kept her encouraged to defend the castle —which they did successfully for a time.

The Duke of Blois was much surprised when he found what a difficult task was his, because he had laughed scornfully when told that it was a woman who led his enemy.

When it was thought that the Montfort forces would be obliged to surrender, and the Bishop was about to talk of terms with the Duke of Blois, Joan ran once more to the tower of her castle, hoping that she might see the sail of one of the English fleet.

Her heart thrilled as she saw on the horizon what she thought might be a ship. And her courage increased as she feverishly watched the speck develop into a ship.

Soon the English fleet sailed into the harbor, dropped anchor, and in a short while defeated the Duke of Blois and burned his encampment.

Then followed a treaty whereby John of Montfort was set free, and he and his brave wife were once more united.

For this splendid act of heroism Joan of Brittany is remembered, and her memory is cherished by all who read the history of the Bretons.

FROM NOW ON

By FRANK L. PACKARD.
A CONTINUED STORY

He did not believe Millman's story, or in Millman's innocence now—when it was too late! He couldn't reach Millman now. There were bars of iron, and steel doors, and walls of stone between himself and Millman's cell; and in the morning Millman would be gone, and Millman would have sixty-two—no, sixty-one days—to get that money and put the width of the world between them before he, Dave Henderson, was free.

Sixty-one days! And in the space of one short moment, wrecking all that the toil and agony of years was to have stood for, he had told Millman what Millman wanted to know! And that was the moment Millman had been waiting for through two long years with cunning patience—and he, Dave Henderson, because he was shaken to the soul with desperation, because he was alone with his back to the wall, in extremity, ready to grasp at any shred of hope, and because he was sick in body, and because the sudden, overwhelming uplift at Millman's offer had numbed and dulled his faculties in a mighty revulsion of relief, had fallen into the traitor's trap.

And it had been done so quickly! The guard had been there and had intervened, and there hadn't been time for his mind to win back its normal poise and reason logically. He hadn't reasoned in that brief instant; he had only caught and grasped the outflung hand of one whom, for two years, he had trusted and believed was a friend. He hadn't reasoned then; he had even stepped out of the prison library more lighthearted than he had been almost from the moment they had put these striped clothes upon him five years before; but he had barely stood locked in his cell here again when, like some ghastly blight falling upon him, reason had come and left him a dragged weakling, scarcely able physically to stand upon his feet. And then that had passed, and he had been himself at the cell door, and with superhuman strength, wrench and tear the bars asunder that he might get at Millman again. He had checked that impulse amidst the jeers and mockeries of impish voices that rang in his ears and filled the cell with their insane jabberings—voices that laughed in hellish glee at him for being a fool in the first place, and for his utter impotence in the second.

They were jeering and chuckling now, those insane demon voices! He swung from the center of the cell, and flung himself down on the cot again. They might well mock at him, those voices! For two years, though he had had faith in Millman, he had kept the secret of the hiding place of that money to himself because, believing Millman to be an honest man, it would have been unfair to Millman to have told him, since, as an honest man, Millman then would either have had to inform the authorities—or become a dishonest man. It was clear enough, wasn't it? And logical enough? And yet in one unguarded moment he had repudiated his own logic! He had based all, his faith and trust and confidence in Millman, on the belief that Millman was an honest man. Well, an honest man wouldn't voluntarily aid and abet a thief in getting away with stolen money, nor make himself an accomplice after the fact, nor offer to help outwit the police, nor agree to participate in what amounted to stealing the money for a second time, and so make of himself a criminal! And if the man was then dishonest, and for two years had covered that dishonesty with a mask of hypocrisy, it was obvious enough, since the hypocrisy had been solely for his, Dave Henderson's, benefit, that Millman had planned it all patiently from the beginning, and now meant to do him cold, to get the money and keep it.

He could not remain still. He was up on his feet again from the cot. Fury had him in its grip once more. Five years! Five years of hell in this devil's hole! And a branded name! He had thrown everything into the balance—all he had! And now—this! Tricked! That was it—tricked! Tricked by a Judas!

All the passion of the man was on the surface now. Lean and gaunt, his body seemed to crouch forward as though to spring; his hands, with fingers crooked like claws reaching for their prey, were outstretched before him. Sixty-one days' start Millman had. But Millman would need more than that! The only man in the world whom he had ever trusted, and who had then betrayed him, would need more than 61 days to escape the reckoning that was to come. Millman might hide, Millman might live for years in lavish ease on that money, and in the end there might be none of that money left, but sooner or later Millman would pay a bigger price than—a hundred thousand dollars. The world wasn't big enough for the two of them. And when that day came—

His muscles relaxed. The paroxysm of fury left him, and suddenly he moaned a little as though in bitter hurt. There was another side to it. He could not help thinking of that other side. There had been two years of what he had thought was friendship—and the friendship had been hypocrisy. It was hard to believe. Perhaps Millman meant to play square after all, perhaps Millman would keep that rendezvous in New York on June twenty-fourth at 8 o'clock in the evening at the St. Lucian Hotel. Perhaps Millman would. It wasn't only on account of the money that he hoped Millman would—there were those two years of what he had thought was friendship.

He leaned suddenly against the wall of the cell, the palms of his hands pressed against it, his face crushed into his knuckles. No! What was the use of that! Why try to delude himself again? Why try to make himself believe what he wanted to believe? He could reason now coolly and logically enough. If Millman was honest he would not do what he had offered to do; and being, therefore, dishonest, his apparent honesty had been only a mask, and the mask had been only for his, Dave Henderson's, benefit, and that, logically, could evidence but one thing—that Millman had deliberately set himself to win the confidence that would win for Millman the stake of one hundred thousand dollars. There was no other conclusion, was there?

His head came up from his hands, and he stood rigid, tense. Wait! Wait a minute, until his brain cleared. There was another possibility. He had not thought of it before! It confused and staggered him now. Suppose that Millman stood in with the police! Suppose that the police had used Millman for just the purpose that Millman had accomplished! Or—why not?—suppose that Millman was even one of the police himself! It was not so tenable a theory as it was to assume that Millman had acted as a stool-pigeon; but it was, even at that, well within the realm of possibility. A man would not count two years ill spent on a case that involved the recovery of a hundred thousand dollars—nor hesitate to play a convict's part, either, if necessary. It had been done before. Until Barjan had come last night, the police had made no sign for years—unless Millman were indeed one of them, and, believing at the last that he was facing failure, had called in Barjan. Millman hadn't had a hard time of it in the penitentiary. His education had been the excuse, if it were an excuse, for all the soft clerical jobs. Who was to know if Millman ever spent the nights in his cell?

Dave Henderson crushed his fists against his temples. What did it matter! In the long run, what did it matter! Crook, or informant, or an officer, Millman had wrecked him, and he would pay his debt to Millman! He laughed low again, while his teeth gnawed at his lip. There was Barjan and Bookie Skarvan—and now Millman! And Baldy Vickers and the underworld!

There wasn't much chance, was there? Not much to expect now in return for the eternities in which he had worn these prison stripes, not much out of the ruin of his life, not much for the all and everything he had staked and risked! Not much—only to make one last fight, to make as many of these men pay as dearly as he could. Fight! Yes, he would fight. He had never hedged. He would never hedge. They had him with his back to the wall. He knew that. There wasn't much chance now; there wasn't any, if he looked the situation squarely in the face. He stood alone, absolutely alone; there was nowhere to turn, no single soul to turn to. His hand was against every other man's. But he was not beaten. They would never beat him. A knife thrust or a blackjack from Bookie Skarvan's skulking pack, though it might end his life, would not beat him; a further term here behind these walls, though it might wither up the soul of him, would not beat him!

And Millman! Up above his head his hands twisted and knotted together again, and the great muscular shoulders locked back, and the clean, straight limbs grew taut. And he laughed. And the laugh was very low and sinister. A beast cornered was an ugly thing. And the dominant instinct in a beast was self-preservation—and a leap at its enemy's throat. A beast asked no quarter—and gave none. He was a beast. They had made him a beast in here, an animal, a numbered thing, not a man; they had not even left him with a name—just one of a herd of beasts and animals. But they had not tamed him. He was alone, facing them all now, and there wasn't much chance because the odds were overwhelming; but if he was alone, he would not go down alone, and—

He turned his head suddenly, and his hands dropped to his sides. There had come a cry from somewhere. It was not very loud, but it rang in a startling way through the night silence of the prison. It was a cry as of sudden fear and weakness. It came again; and in a bound Dave Henderson reached the

Here Are Recipes to Have at Hand at Pickling-Time

By Jeannette Young Norton

The Authority on Home Cooking.
HERE are no condiments that can compare with those made at home if the receipts used are good, the things carefully made and correctly bottled. The following are reliable recipes and one and all well worth a trial. When not otherwise stated, good cider vinegar may be used. Brown sugar is preferable to white for vegetable pickles and fruits when not otherwise stated.

Apple Chutney.
Pare, quarter, core and then slice two dozen green tart apples. Put them into the preserving kettle with one cupful of moist light brown sugar dissolved in three pints of vinegar and cook until the apples are tender, then set to cool. Add a half-cupful of salt, a quarter-cupful of mustard seed, one thinly sliced garlic, a cupful of stoned raisins, a quarter-cupful of ground ginger, four ounces of sweet peppers, chopped, and a few minutes, then pour together very gently and mix. Cook, bottle and cork. Scatter in a tablespoonful of cloves and a few pieces of stick cinnamon. Wash and stem ripe black grapes, put into the preserve kettle, add cupsful of vinegar and cook until the grapes are soft, work through a fine strainer to the preserve kettle and add pounds of brown sugar, spoonful each of ground cloves, allspice and nutmeg. Cook gently for one hour, the, cork and seal. Catsup is made the same way that a few slices of added to the grapes and tarragon vinegar or gar instead of the salt.

Sweet Pickled Peas.

BURGESS BEDTIME STORIES

Farmer Brown's Boy Changes His Mind.

By Thornton W. Burgess.

HOLDING Nanny Meadow Mouse in his hand, Farmer Brown's Boy could feel her little heart going pit-a-pat, pit-a-pat with fright. She had startled him when she so unexpectedly scrambled up his trousers leg. But he knew that Nanny had been a thousand times more frightened at the discovery of her mistake than he had.

"You poor little thing!" said Farmer Brown's Boy softly. "You made a dreadful mistake. Anyway, I suppose it seems dreadful to you. You probably think that this is the end of everything for you. In that you are making a second mistake. Your first mistake really wasn't dreadful at all, because nothing bad is going to happen to you. I don't know how you happened to climb up my trousers leg. But we all make mistakes sometimes. Now, don't do it again."

With this, Farmer Brown's Boy stooped over and put Nanny on the ground. For a second she didn't move. You see, she couldn't believe that she was free again. Then she realized that it was true, and with a little squeak, half of fright and half of joy, she scampered straight for the old scarecrow and disappeared up one leg of the old trousers.

Farmer Brown's Boy laughed right out. He understood then how Nanny had made her funny mistake. "As I live, you took me for that scarecrow!" cried Farmer Brown's Boy, and how he did laugh. Then an idea came to him. "I wonder," said he, "if you have made your home in that old scarecrow. I do believe you have. I'll have to find out."

So Farmer Brown's Boy carefully looked the old scarecrow all over. He looked in every pocket. Then he unbuttoned the coat. When he did that he heard a faint rustle in the straw with which it was stuffed. He promptly buttoned the coat up again.

"That settles it," said he. "You've got a nest in the middle of all. I didn't suppose it was of the least bit of use any longer, but now I guess it is of more real use than it ever was before. It was a good thing for you that you made that funny mistake and ran up my trousers leg. If you hadn't, I would have taken down that old scarecrow and so destroyed your home. It's queer how mistakes sometimes turn out for the best, after all. Now I'll leave you alone. You've had fright enough for one morning."

Farmer Brown's Boy whistled for Bowser the Hound, and together they started for home. Behind them, in the middle of the old scarecrow, they left two frightened little people, trying to make up their minds whether or not they should move again.

How to Aid a Person Unconscious from a Fall

By Royal S. Copeland, M. D.

United States Senator From New York.
Former Commissioner of Health, New York City.

A FEW days ago I was driving along in the country when I saw a man lying by the side of the road. His face was grimy with the dirt of the pavement and, until I felt for his pulse, I feared he was dead.

In this day when every street and highway is crowded with automobiles, head injuries due to accident are all too common. Struck a body blow by a powerful automobile, the injured man is thrown to the ground, his head striking the pavement with terrific force. This is what had happened in the case I have mentioned.

What are the causes of loss of consciousness from injury? Among these are fracture of the skull, concussion of the brain, compression of the brain and bleeding into the brain substance.

Any one of these conditions, even the most serious, may exist without any mark upon the body or head. The brain may be seriously damaged without fracture. It is unusual for fracture of the skull to occur without more or less injury to the brain.

The simplest of the brain injuries is concussion. And yet concussion ranges in severity from a brief loss of voluntary movement, lasting but a few minutes, to profound unconsciousness, continuing for hours and ending in death.

When we say that someone was stunned by a fall and was able to go about his affairs in half an hour or so, we describe a very mild concussion of the brain.

In concussion the brain has been shaken and disturbed. There is no damage that the eye can see, even in the fatal cases which have been examined after death. The breathing and heart action are weak, irregular and rapid. The skin is cold and feels clammy to the touch. When consciousness returns there may be vomiting and some fever.

If you are called upon to do something for a person who is stunned or unconscious from any sort of brain injury, you should first find out if there are any marks on the body or head. Make sure that the injured person hasn't fainted from loss of blood.

Then keep the patient perfectly still. Put him to bed in a cool, quiet room, or let him lie on the grass in a quiet place. Don't permit talking or confusion about him.

Elevate his head and shoulders and, unless his temperature is below normal, an ice-cap or cold compresses to the head will be useful.

Do not attempt to pour water or to force food down the throat of an unconscious person. You may do serious harm.

Leave the matter of feeding and further treatment to the doctor, who should be sent for as soon as an accident of this sort is discovered.

Wonderful Clean,
Colorless Liquid
Restores Original Color
Results in a Week

Science again has scored a triumph in the discovery of a very remarkable liquid known as Kolor-Bak. If you are gray, just apply this liquid to the hair and scalp and your hair will soon take on the actual color it had in the past. Not a trace of grayness will remain.

Kolor-Bak comes in the form of a clean and colorless liquid, containing properties which quickly restore the lost color to the hair and give it renewed vigor. And note that the one preparation is for all colors of hair. No special solution required for each color—no samples of hair required.

You will find also that with Kolor-Bak the hair has the same shade throughout. It does not appear streaked, faded or "dyed."

Every scientist, every physician, knows that gray hair is hair that has ceased to receive its normal supply of coloring matter or pigment from certain tiny cells (called follicles or papillae) in the scalp, because these cells have become inactive from illness, shock of some kind, scalp disease, dandruff, infection, neglect of the hair, or lack of circulation, etc. But no matter what the cause of the grayness, it is simply amazing to see how it disappears when Kolor-Bak is used. It is a real substitute for the natural pigmentation.

What kind of sleep satisfies you?

Some sleep so soundly they do not hear even the crash and roll of a thunderstorm. Others start awake at the flapping of a curtain or the honk of a passing motor car.

The sound sleepers get the kind of rest that renews vigor and stores fresh energy for the coming day. They are the "men who do things"—the women and girls whose vitality is equal to every opportunity of social or business life.

The light sleepers seldom "let go" and dip down to the strength-restoring levels of deep, dreamless rest. As often as not, it is only a sagging spring or a lumpy, worn-out mattress that cheats them.

Why not give your bedding the careful study it deserves—tonight? Take time to examine your spring and mattress critically.

Look for the bumps and hollows you may not have noticed because your body is accustomed to them. Then go to any good furniture store and compare the Simmons springs and mattresses displayed in a wide range of styles, at prices to fit any pocket-book.
